Mysterious Circumstances Shroud Glider Expert Death

SWOON BRINGS SMOOCH

The noontime sun in the White House garden proves temporarily too much today for Greta Hayes, 11, daughter of Rep. Wayne L. Hayes, D-Ohio, as she collapses while the President is speaking at ceremonies preparatory to signing a new Peace Corps bill (above). Found With Fractured Skull Two Weeks Ago

An Air Force glider pioneer died yesterday of a head injury suffered under mysterious circumstances at Hamilton Air Force Base and kept secret for nearly two weeks.

Lt. Col. (ret.) Harold A. Reynolds, 69, of 65 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, died in Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio of San Francisco. He had been under treatment there since he was found lying near the base theater at Hamilton on the morning of Aug. 11, his skull fractured. He never regained consciousness.

Capt. Bruce Cummings of information office at the air base said it was not known whether the retired officer was beaten or injured in a fall.

No report of the injury had been made to Novato police nor to the press.

Colonel Reynolds, who was an invasion gliderist with the First Allied Airborn Army in the World War II invasion of Europe, was found lying in the parking lot of the base theater early on Aug. 11.

Captain Cummings said doctors thought he had been there for some time when he was found.

'NOT OF INTEREST'

"We did not think it of interest to the press when someone was injured and goes to the hospital," said Maj. Paul K. Jones of the base office of information. He said at the time it was thought that Reynolds had fallen.

Sgt. Glenn Wright, acting chief of Novato police, said usually the Novato police are informed of such cases by the air police, even though this happened on a part of the base where the federal government has sole jurisdiction.

"In this case we were not told, to the best of my knowledge," Wright said.

CONTEST JUDGE

Colonel Reynolds was born April 3, 1896, in New York state. He enlisted in the field artillery on Sept. 28, 1317, serving throughout World War I.

In 1921, with his father, Guy W. Reynolds, he was one of the pioneers in constructing and flying the first primary soaring

Marine Plane Crash Kills 58 In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Fifty-eight U.S. servicemen, most of them Marines flying back to Viet Nam after leave, were believed dead today after their transport plane crashed into Hong Kong harbor just after taking off.

"Except for 13 known survivors it now appears all others aboard the flight are dead," said an American official on the scene.

Divers pulled two bodies from the torn and twisted wreckage and said they believed there were at least 20 still inside the fuselage.

Two barge cranes lifted the wreckage seven and a half hours after the crash from 30 feet of water and began towing it to the British Royal Air Force dock for removal of the bodies.

Eyewitnesses said a 29-year-old Chinese barge foreman, Ng Kam-shing, and two other barge workers made two trips through burning oil in a small sampan to pull seven of the survivors from the water.

An operations officer at Hong Kong's Kaitak Airport said there were 71 persons aboard — 6 crewmen and 65 passengers — when the C130 Hercules took off for Da Nang and Saigon. He

BIG ONES BITTER

Spiders Tasty If They're Tiny

LONDON (AP) — Christopher Lloyd says that smaller spiders are more tasty—"larger ones, the bathtub variety, are rather bitter."

"I much prefer the smaller ones," said the 31-year-old real estate man. "You crunch them up, and when you do, you get just the hint of flavor. They aren't bad at all."

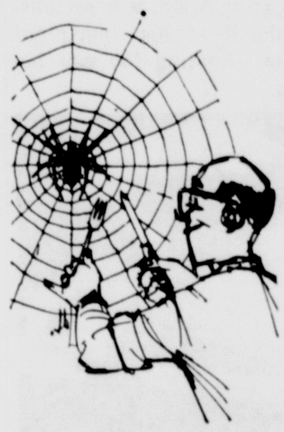

Lloyd said he read somewhere several years ago that spiders were edible.

"The, one day I was entertaining some children at tea and a big spider crawled out of the salad," he continued.

He reached forward, picked up the spider and ate it.

"It gave the children a big laugh," he said, "and now it's become something of a gimmick."

The British Broadcasting Corp. interviewed the real estate man on a breakfast radio show and asked him to be realistic. He made appreciative munching noises, and dozens of listeners telephoned to protest.

Seeking to go radio one better, the BBC's television division put Lloyd before its cameras last night. Viewers saw him eat two spiders.

Protests swamped the BBC's switchboard for hours.

Hub's Serio Turns In His Badge

Leaving Suddenly, Buchignani Says; 35 Years Service

By STEPHEN COOK

Sam N. Serio, San Anselmo's bulldog-faced assistant police chief, who exhibited the same diligence pursuing criminals as he did chewing the ever-present cigar in the corner of his mouth, has brought his career to a sudden close.

Serio, 57, walked into Chief Raymond R. Buchignani's office Friday and told him he wanted to resign, effective at the end of that day, "for purposes of retirement."

"It was a very sudden thing," Chief Buchigani said.

LONGEST RECORD

Serio, who said that until Friday he had the longest record of service of any peace officer in the county, was a veteran of 27 years on the San Anselmo force and eight years with the Fairfax Police Department.

"I think I'll just take it easy for a while and then maybe do some private investigation work on my own," he said today.

Serio is best known for his investigations leading to the arrests of bad check artists. "That's the type of work I think I might go into in private business," he said.

IN FAIRFAX

He began his career as a police officer in 1930 with the Fairfax department, working for the city where he had grown up. There were only two men on the force at that time—patrolman Serio and Chief Andy Peri.

It was in that town that he worked on the crime he best remembers today.

"That was a 25-cent murder at the golf links (the Meadow Club) in 1932," he said. "A waiter and a locker man got in an argument over a two-bit tip and the locker man was killed."

Serio unhappily recalled today that his case against the waiter did not stand up and the man was acquitted.

Serio joined the San Anselmo force in May, 1938. In 1946, he was promoted to lieutenant. In

DISTRICTS DON'T GIVE TAX BREAKS

Broemmel Proposes State Law Revision

Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel today proposed that cities, school districts and other taxing units shift the emphasis in taxation from a rate geared to property values to a tax levy based on "work load."

The county board of supervisors, to whom Broemmel made the proposal, responded with enthusiasm and agreed to send the suggestion to Sacramento for one phase of a possible statewide tax reform, should the legislature hold a special session this fall for that purpose.

As an illustration of what he had in mind, Broemmel used school districts, explaining in a letter to the supervisors that the schools' work load could be computed on the basis of average daily attendance.

Assessment Spiral Matched By Rates

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Despite a record increase in assessed valuation in Marin, special district tax rates generally have not been reduced for 1966.

Almost every area of the county has higher assessed value for fiscal 1966 than it had last year. Where there are reductions, they are but a fraction of a per cent.

Increased valuations should allow a corresponding reduction in the tax rate. But it is not so.

In six of the county's eight fire districts, the rates have gone up for fiscal 1966. In two community services districts, the rates have gone up. In three others, they have stayed the same, while one will have a two-cent rate cut.

Even in the lighting district, where on would expect fairly standard costs of operation, the rates have gone up in 11 of the county's 17 districts.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, in reporting the fiscal 1966 tax rates, warned that some district governing boards, particularly those in southern Marin where assessments have soared, have created real "jolts" in the tax bills.

Figures compiled by Mitchell show:

Fire districts—Alto-Richardson Bay, where assessed valuation

Astronauts Witness Missile Launching

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—The Gemini 5 space pilots spotted the fiery launch of a super-quick military missile today as they sped on toward the mid-point of their world record eight-day space journey.

"I see it, I see it," pilot Charles Conrad Jr. said excitedly. "There it goes. . . he's out over the water. See him. . . we can still see it quite clearly."

The Gemini 5 crew took pictures and made infra-red or heat readings of the 58-foot solid propellant rocket after it emerged from a Pacific Coast firing silo. It was a Minuteman.

Conrad earlier reported seeing city streets, three flying airplanes near Jacksonville, Fla., and some smoke plumes in Texas.

They were well over a million miles into their 3.12 million mile journey to prove that men can live and work in space without debility.

Shortly before they were given a go-ahead for another day in space flight director Christopher Kraft told them: "You're

Brush Blaze Under Control

Fire, which broke out shortly before noon today, raged through grass, brush and trees on the Disa Ranch above Homestead Valley and burned at least 100 acres.

At 1 p.m. Marin County and Tamalpais Valley firemen, fighting the fire in the face of high winds and in an atmosphere mixed with heavy smoke and fog, were reported to have the flames nearly under control.

The fire was burning within 200 yards of a home owned by Mary McCurdy of 361 Bridgewood Avenue, Mill Valley. Feeling her house was in danger, Mrs. McCurdy was removing small valuables at press time today.

Marin Officer Quoted On Viet Cong Actions

An Army officer whose home is in Marin County quoted today in a United Press International dispatch from Bien Hao air base, scene of today's mortar barrage by the Viet Cong.

Lt. Col. Richard E. Shade, 37, of 259 Johnstone Drive, Marinwood, said the Viet Cong may have used artillery for the first time in the Vietnamese war during the early morning attack 15 miles north of Saigon.

Bombers Blast Viet Cong; Reds Shoot Up Air Base

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — U.S. B52 bombers from Guam rained tons of bombs on a Viet Cong concentration today near Chu Lai while air force fighter-bombers struck again at a railway bridge barely 30 miles from the borders of Red China.

One U.S. plane was shot down over Communist North Viet Nam today but the pilot was rescued.

Communist guerrillas slipped a full mile inside the U.S. air base defense perimeter at Bien Hoa early today and damaged 49 U.S. and Vietnamese planes with mortar and possibly artillery fire. Casualties were reported "light" and no deaths were reported.

Student unrest was reported growing at Hue, the ancient capital north of Da Nang, where 2,000 students protested for the fourth consecutive day against the military government, conscription and alleged failure of U.S. troops to differentiate between Viet Cong and

Tiburon Council Keeps Tax Line

A 19.5-cent tax rate was set for the City of Tiburon by the city council last night, keeping the pledge of some councilmen made during incorporation vote-getting drive last year that the city would have a tax rate under 20 cents.

The date will allow a budget of $164,173, including an additional $3,000 which councilmen last night added to a contingency fund, bring the total in the fund to $9,200.

The budget was planned with an 11 per cent delinquency factor, city Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose told the council.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch said today that California gun dealers had sold a record number of guns—nearly all to whites—in a five-day period after the Los Angeles race riots.

Lynch said statistics gathered by his office showed Californians bought 9,333 guns in a five-day period, with sales reaching a one-day record of 3,399 Aug. 18. He said gun sales normally totaled about 1,000 a week.

Funeral For Rights Worker

KEENE, N.H. (AP)—Jonathan Daniels, the young seminarian and civil rights worker slain in Hayneville, Ala., receives the last rites of his faith today in the church where he worshipped as a boy.

Thompson

As his body lay in state, the clergyman from Atlanta who accompanied the body north to Keene said the Episcopal church in Alabama is denying the goals for which Daniels gave his life.

Daniels, a student at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Mass., was in Hayneville as a civil rights worker, after working in Selma, Ala.

He was killed last Friday by a shotgun blast outside a grocery store. Thomas L. Coleman, 55, a special deputy sheriff and a member of a prominent Hayneville family, has been charged with murder.

A Catholic priest, the Rev. Richard Morrisroe, 26, of Chicago, remained in critical condition at a Montgomery, Ala., hospital with wounds suffered in the same shooting.

Another clergyman, the Rev. Donald Thompson, 59, a white minister from Jackson, Miss., was seriously wounded in a shotgun ambush at his apartment Sunday night. Police said that shooting too was because of civil rights activities.

Peace Marchers 'Hurting Morale'

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — An Army sergeant who escaped from Viet Cong captivity says peace marches protesting American involvement in Viet Nam are hurting the morale of U.S. troops.

Sgt. 1/C Issac Camacho said he is disgusted with protest actions of "some Americans" against President Johnson's commitment in Viet Nam.

"These people are very disheartening to the troops who are facing death over there today," said Camacho, 28, who reached American lines July 13 after fleeing the Viet Cong.

"This only makes matters worse for the American people," he said. "The President has more important things to cope with than those protests."

Camacho, a 10-year Army veteran, was the first American to escape successfully from the guerrilla forces.

"They treated you good sometimes, and sometimes bad," the laconic Camacho said yesterday in an interview.

Camacho said "good" treatment by the Viet Cong included three meals of rice daily, supplemented occasionally by monkey, elephant or snake meat and wild roots.

This diet, he said, was about what the guerrillas ate.

Bad treatment consisted of forceful interrogations and "brain washing," the career serviceman said. He said he was not beaten.

Camacho's cell was in a wooden hut hidden in the jungles of South Viet Nam. He said he saw little of actual guerrilla operations.

ISAAC CAMACHO
Monkey for dinner

Camacho was wounded and captured Nov. 25, 1963 when several hundred Viet Cong overran a camp 25 miles northwest of Saigon. His head wound was treated by his captors, he said.

He said the Viet Cong provided medication if it was available and issued their prisoners blankets, clothing and mosquito nets.

State Lashes Secret Phone Refund Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Public Utilities Commission has accused the Federal Commnuications Commission and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. of holding secret talks which deprived California telephone users of $50 million in long distance telephone rate reductions.

This accusation was made in a brief filed by the PUC in the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Monday.

In the brief, the PUC said the FCC originally called for a $150 million long distance rate reduction.

However, the brief went on to say that the AT&T countered the FCC proposal with a $75 million reduction offer.

Then, the PUC brief asserted, through secret negotiations between the FCC and the AT&T, the two parties agreed to the final $100 million reduction based upon a "split the difference" formula.

The PUC is now asking the federal court to order the FCC to grant a rehearing on the long distance rate reductions. An earlier PUC request was denied by the FCC on the ground that "there was no agency action" under applicable sections of federal law.

The lower long distance rates became effective early this year.

Russ Boats Seen Cruising Near Alaska Nuclear Test

SEATTLE (AP) — The Post-Intelligencer said today in a dispatch from Amchitka, Alaska, that several Russian vessels steamed slowly Wednesday past that Aleutian island where the United States plans to explode an underground nuclear device.

Reporter Fergus Hoffman, writing from the site, said the defense department showed the test site to newsmen for the first time yesterday. The date of the explosion has not been revealed.

Hoffman said defense officials reported the Russian vessels appeared to be a fishing factory ship and several smaller craft, all of which remained beyond the three-mile limit.

A hole for the test is being drilled a mile and a half from the northern shore of Amchitak, Hoffman wrote. He said the size of the device was not disclosed.

"The purpose of the test," Hoffman wrote, "is to give the nation capability to distinguish between a man-made underground shock and a natural earthquake."

Philippine Ferry Tips, Many Die

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine constabulary reported today that 45 persons were feared drowned in the capsizing of a ferry off Samar Island.

Newspaper reports said the dead and missing totaled about 65.

The small ferry turned over yesterday afternoon about 400 yards from the landing at Catbalogan.

There were about 150 passengers aboard at the time, according to the report received at constabulary headquarters.

Dirksen Grounds Out To Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson Monday signed a congressional resolution to designate Aug. 31 to Sept. 6 as American Legion Baseball Week, quipping that Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirkson almost turned it into a "doubleheader."

Johnson referred to an unsuccessful attempt by Dirksen, who was present at the signing ceremony, to pass a proposal aimed at circumventing a Supreme Court ruling on state legislative apportionment by attaching it to the resolution.

"Actually," Dirksen shot back, "the game was called on account of darkness."

Bank Prank Puts Customer In Hot Water

By JERRY BUCK

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph B. Finazzo had been making deposits at the Roosevelt Savings Bank in Brooklyn for years, but never before had he gotten as much attention as he got yesterday.

When Finazzo, 74, a retired furrier, handed a deposit slip for $100 to the teller things began to happen.

The teller set off a silent alarm, a guard grabbed Finazzo and three police cars roared up to the bank and whisked him off to the station house.

Officers quizzed the stocky, white-haired Finazzo for an hour, then with profuse apologies they turned him loose.

Finazzo had been the victim of a prank.

Written on the back of the deposit slip was: "This bottle contains acid. Deposit in brown paper bag bills of various denominations. Do not scream for help or you will get hurt."

A prankster apparently had written the threatening note on the slip, then carefully placed it back into the stack.

There it waited until Finazzo came into the bank at 10:30 a.m., made out his deposit and gave it to the teller, Patrick Antonelle, 19.

Antonelle casually turned the slip over — and saw the message. It was his first day on the job, but he had been instructed how to handle such situations.

He pressed the alarm button and motioned to bank guard Gerald Dooley.

Finazzo was no stranger to the bank. He owns an apartment house and has a large savings account at the bank.

LBJ Wires Mother Of Slain Student

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has sent a telegram of condolence to Mrs. Phillip Daniels of Keene, N. H., the mother of the Episcopal seminarian shot to death near Hayneville, Ala., in a civil rights incident.

The President expressed grief over the death of the theological student, Jonathan M. Daniels, 27, and said "we labor toward the day when the cause of brotherhood may prevail, and the violence that sometimes scars the face of America may be ended."

Dominican Junta Shuffles Slightly Toward Peace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The peacemakers in the Dominican Republic were hopeful again today as the civilian-military junta agreed to study changes in the inter-American peace formula.

The junta said it opposes any changes but ts lawyers will study them, leaving the door open for agreement.

The rebels accepted part of the new peace proposal yesterday.

The plan calls for disarmament of civilians and a provisional government as the first steps toward general elections.

The cycle of ocean tides was one of the first natural phenomena to impress mankind with its regularity.

IT'S A GOOD LANDING

Pilot David Barnes, 33, walks away from the remains of his crop dusting plane at Oxnard, Calif., after it shattered one avocado tree and nosed into another after a forced landing due to engine failure over the weekend. Parallel Parking Foes Are Due At Hearing

The Novato City Council will face a delegation of irate businessmen who want to keep angle parking when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The council on Aug. 10 heard a recommendation for a change from angle to parallel parking from Lawrence A. Coleman, city director of public works. It set for tonight a public hearing on the proposal, which would eliminate 83 parking places on Grant Avenue.

At a Chamber of Commerce public forum last Thursday, all of the approximately 50 persons attending were opposed to changing to parallel parking. Merchants Saturday started circulating petitions opposing the parallel parking plan.

The council will conclude its hearing on the Center Road Assessment District No. 2.

Other items to come before the council include use by the Novato Sanitary District of the city's radio equipment, a recommendation on a parks acquisition tax from the parks and recreation commission, and a change in the Scottsdale assessment district plan.

The council will hold its final budget hearing and adopt the tax rate for fiscal 1966 at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Fans Discover Beatle Hideaway

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The word got out where the Beatles are staying—and it put the skids to their plans to spend a "nice, quiet week."

Their hideaway in Beverly Hills was discovered yesterday and by early evening, teen-agers quickly flocked there. Soon there were traffic jams and complaints from neighbors, police said.

Police Sgt. Ron Traurig said the rock 'n roll singing group hired four security guards to protect the estate where they are staying and it was suggested that they hire more guards to protect other property in the area.

Sealab Ready To Be Lowered

LA JOLLA (UPI)—The 200-ton, 57-foot-long Sealab 2 was scheduled to be lowered 210 feet into the ocean today, following a 24-hour delay caused by failure of an electric power transformer unit.

Final pressure checks were conducted Monday night after a new power unit was installed in the white steel cylinder.

Sealab 2 will rest on a ledge in Scripps Canyon about 3,000 feet offshore near Scripps Pier during the 45-day experiment involving astronaut-aquanaut M. Scott Carpenter, nine scientists and a porpoise named Tuffy.

Directors Are Enthusiastic Over Teen-Age Suggestions

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District last night were enthusiastic about additions to the program suggested by the recently formed Teen Council, but delayed action pending a list of rules to be prepared by the council.

District chairman Jack Brandon said the council suggested continuation of ski trips, start of beach trips, provision for slot racing, and other programs. Directors suggested the district purchase an old car for the youngsters to work on at the recreation center.

The council will continue to work on its program suggestions. Meanwhile members will meet with Harvey E. Teague, head of the Marin County Sheriff's Juvenile Division, to prepare a set of rules of behavior. After these are prepared, there will be another meeting with directors.

The Teen Council was formed after vandalism and rowdiness forced directors to close the teen program at the center.

Brandon was confident today that the council was on the way to a workable solution.

Louisiana Tries Race Cooperation

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana has one of the Deep South's first statewide biracial committees — 42 prominent state leaders handpicked by the governor — to disarm racial powderkegs.

Gov. John J. McKeithen announced the 42 member commission yesterday. The idea for the group, to avert or sooth racial friction, was conceived during the tense civil rights struggle at Bogalusa this summer.

The Council for a Better Louisiana recommended the biracial advisory committee when there were fears the racial tension of Bogalusa might spread across the state.

the tax rate per $100 assessed valuation as it does now, he said, the state could set a ceiling on the amount of money a district could spend each year for each pupil enrolled.

Supervisors asked County administrator Alan Bruce to study how the same idea could be applied to cities, the county and other taxing districts.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker praised Broemmel's letter as an "outstanding presentation." Chairman Peter H. Behr said the plan bore "some fruits of reform."

The board also authorized Bruce to do a three-week study on a plan put fourth last week by Leydecker, under which supervisors — acting as the county board of equalization — would hike assessments in certain areas to bring about greater tax equality.

Broemmel predicted his appraisers will be able to avoid a repeat of "the real surgery that we had to do the last two years."

Airman Hunted By Red Cross

Red Cross officials in San Rafael were hunting today for an Air Force enlisted man believed to be on leave in Marin County.

The local chapter received an emergency message today for A/1c Gary D. Hall of Jacksonville, Fla., stationed at Malstrom Air Force Base, Mont.

Hall gave a San Rafael address as his destination when he left the base last Tuesday to start a 30-day leave. No one at that address reported knowing him, however, the Red Cross said.

Anyone knowing his whereabouts was asked to call the local Red Cross chapter, which may be reached at any hour.

SAM N. SERIO
Surprise retirement

1945, he became assistant chief.

A few years later he found himself weathering the stormiest period of his career. Police Chief Donald H. Wood reached the manditory age for retirement in 1957 and Serio was next in line for the job.

He took a civil service examination for the promotion and failed. The test was thrown out for a technical reason and another was offered. This time Serio did not take the test. Buchignani, then a sergeant, scored highest and was given the job.

In 1959, a three-man commitee made up of City Councilmen Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., Carleton G. E. Little and William Franchini launched an investigation of city governmental departments, concentrating their attention on the police department and Serio's activities.

Specifically the three took him to task for driving a St. Anselm's School bus while in police uniform, driving a bus out of the county while on duty or call, and serving on traffic direction for a private concern while on duty or call.

Serio was graduated from the FBI Academy in Washington, D. C., in 1957 and is a past president of the Northern California Check Investigators Assn.

Chief Buchignani said yesterday that under a state retirement plan, police officers, aged 55 or older, may retire upon accumulation of 20 years service.

He said an examination will be given to candidates for the assistant chief position.

Search For Boat Is Called Off By Coast Guard

The Coast Guard carried out a three-hour air and sea search last night after a boat was reported sinking off Point Reyes, but found no sign of such a disaster.

Coast Guard rescue officials said today they organized the search at 5 p.m. after receiving a telephone call from a Mrs. Williams who lives in the area.

They said she told them she heard a distress signal over a tactical radio frequency (2638 kilocycles). A message was sent out to the vessel advising it of the standard distress frequency (2182 kcs.) but nothing more was heard.

Coast Guard officials said an extensive search was made between 5 and 8:16 p.m. when darkness fell and the search was suspended. Three sea vessels and a helicopetr took part in the search.

County Planners Payment Revised By Supervisors

Marin County supervisors today agreed to start paying each member of the county planning commission $25 for each meeting he attends, up to four meetings monthly.

The pre-meeting pay will do away with reimbursements for mileage, meals and other in-county expenses. It will go into effect Sept. 1.

Only exception, supervisors agreed, will be for meetings outside the county, for which commissioners may still draw expenses.

Supervisors showed little enthusiasm for a suggestion by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer that they consider members of other commissions.

He said seven other Marines were supposed to have made the flight but did not show up on time.

The Marines were returning to the Da Nang air base 380 miles north of Saigon after rest and relaxation leave in Hong Kong, a Marine Crops spokesman in Da Nang said.

The survivors were brought to Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Kowloon, across the bay from Hong Kong. Their identities were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Hospital officials said they were suffering from shock, burns and fractured limbs but that none appeared to be in critical condition.

Witnesses said the four-engine Hercules veered suddenly to the left after taking off and plunged into the water about 40 feet off an industrial suburb on Hong Kong Island.

McCarthy Plans Oregon Outing

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, who suffered a mild heart attack in Canada earlier this month, will head for Oregon tomorrow to continue his recuperation.

The Senate minority leader entered University of California Medical Center on Aug. 9 and was released last Friday.

Today, McCarthy was in town to catch up on some of his office work before leaving for Oregon tomorrow. "I feel great," he said. "Took off about 14 pounds."

Marin Boat Firm Sold, To Move Factory

Purchase of San Rafael's Trailorboat Engineering Co. by Doresett Plastics Co. of Santa Clara was disclosed today.

The transfer of ownership will mean closing within a year of the fiberglass boat manufacturing operation which started in San Rafael in 1947.

The sale, said to be "for a sum in excess of $500,000," included inventory, trademark, goodwill and a 156-member dealer organization.

Trailorboat, maintaining an average payroll of 45 employees, was owned by Victor and Ray Lenci and Ralph Cain, all of San Rafael. It was one of the county's outstanding boat manufacturers and had established sales outlets throughout the United States. Last year the company sold more than 2,900 boats.

Consolidation of the two companies will make Dorsett, another leading producer of fibercraft craft, "one of the largest and most diversified manufacturers of small boats in the United States," Dorst said. Present combined annual sales volume of the two firms is reported to exceed three million dollars.

Production will be maintained at the San Rafael plant for six months or longer — but under the name of Dorsett, Victor Lenci said. During that time the present staff is expected to be maintained and employees will be given the opportunity to move to Santa Clara when all facilities are transferred to that city in an enlarged operation, he reported. Lenci and his partners will remain in San Rafael.

He said the 98,000-square foot property on Francisco Boulevard was not included in the transaction and after the San Rafael operation is discontinued it will be put up for lease.

Lenci and his associates have no other business plans, he said.

Golf Links Fees May Hold Line In Mill Valley

Mill Valley parks and recreation commissioned last night went on record as not wishing to increase fees at the municipal golf course now, saying they prefer to review this in January at budget sessions.

They heard reports from Mill Valley men's and women's golf clubs who contended, following a Bay Area survey, that rates are sufficient for the facilities being provided, reported Jerome C. Hauke, vice chairman. An increase has been recommended by city manager Bert Balmer to get funds to renovate the clubhouse.

Commissioners voted unanimously in favor of a policy, proposed by Balmer, of leasing out the entire yacht harbor facilities including the construction.

Don Dimitratos, city parks and recreation director, met for the first time with the commission.

MONTEREY (AP) — The 17-year-old daughter of Sen. Fred S. Farr, D-Carmel, was killed in a horseback riding accident in Columbia, the father reported today.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Red China talks tough about Viet Nam but is taking care not to get into the war.

"There is a comment going around in the Communist world these days that Peking is preparted to fight to the last Vietnamese," Rusk said last night."

The battle of the Viet Nam "white papers" was joined today with the Johnson administration beating Republicans to the punch.

Last week House GOP leaders passed word they were issuing a white paper tomorrow as a rebuttal to President Johnson's statements he is carrying out a commitment former President Dwight D. Eisenhower made to South Viet Nam in 1954.

But even as the Republicans were still stapling their manifesto together yesterday, the White House was announcing distribution of a 2-page pamphlet called "Why Viet Nam," packed with speeches, letters and other documents.

Nazi Trio Given Fine Or Jail In Los Angeles

GLENDALE (AP) — Three men who said they were members of the American Nazi Party have been fined $200 each, with the alternative of 40 days in jail, on charges of disturbing the peace.

They are Walter E. Gould, 20, and Frederick E. Harry, 23, who gave their address as that of the party headquarters here, and Robert E. Giles, 29, of Artesia.

They informed Municipal Judge Kenneth A. White that they will appeal and bond was set at $550 each.

The three were arrested last May when, police said, they counter-picketed a group of Congress of Racial Equality members demonstrating at a supermarket.

Fishing Grandma Has Marin Kin

A short Associated Press dispatch from Seattle held special interest for two Marin County families when it appeared in Saturday's Independent-Journal.

The story reported that Mrs. Laverna Miller, 91, of Seattle has taken up camping and fishing with her daughter's family.

"She would have done it earlier," it said, "but was too busy making clothes for her great-great-grandchildren."

Interested readers were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson of 112 Monte Vista Avenue, Larkspur, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thompson of 136 Park Street, San Rafael.

Floyd Thompson is Mrs. Miller's grandson. Gerald, his son, is therefore her great-grandson. Gerald's daughter, 5-month-old Sherri Lynn Thompson, is one of the great-great-grandchildren mentioned in the story.

Fairfax Delays Action Of Flood Study Fund

Fairfax city councilmen delayed taking action last night to provide immediate funds to finance a study of the city's storm drainage system.

The discussion was prompted by City Engineer Richard Nelson's request that the council approve plans and specifications and call for bids on an approvimately $25,000 project to widen the storm drainage culvert on Marinda Drive which carries water from Marinda Oaks to the creek.

Nelson said water from that subdivision now comes off the hill in a 30-foot conduit constructed by the developer, meets with the city's present 18-foot culvert and floods over in the winter.

Councilman Waldemar E. Radtke said he thought future developers should be required to match their drainage systems with the city's. Nelson said this is impossible without a comprehensive storm drainage plan.

The county had planned to include the storm drainage plan in the scheduled city-county master plan for Fairfax. It was dropped from that plan when City Administrator David J. Sumbardo reported the federal government would contribute its two-thirds share of the plan only to a certain level restricted by the population of the city. The storm drainage plan would have brought Fairfax over that limit.

Including storm drainage, the master plan would have cost $28,900. Without it, it stands at $23,300. If the city wants it included, Sumbardo said, it will have to pay the difference.

Hearing the cost of the readjustment of the Marinda Drive culvert—a cost which will be carried by the city alone—Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. said:

"I just wonder if the elimination of the storm drainage plan from the master plan is really money saved. Maybe if some other council had the forsight to put this plan into effect before, we wouldn't be spending $25,000 now."

He then moved that the study be scheduled and the money be drawn from the fiscal 1967 budget. He was told by Councilman Robert Souza he could not bind next year's council.

Next he moved that the study be financed out of this year's general fund. Mayor Frank L. Lawrence cautioned the council should probably have some time to think this over."

Arrigoni withdrew his motion when Sumabrdo said he and Nelson would study the matter and report to the council at its next meeting.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

1. Passed a resolution officially requesting financial aid from the federal government to pay for the city-county master plan.
2. Agreed to purchase an oiler for the city street department from San Anselmo at $450.
3. Agreed to give all city employees a paid holiday on Admission Day. This boosts the total number of holidays for Fairfax employees this year to eight.
4. Agreed to give a step increase in salary to $530 per month to Police Officer Gurnie Cook and end his probationary period on the police force.
5. Approved use of the city baseball field by the Fairfax Merchants' Assn. for a hole-in-one contest next weekend.
6. Authorized Sumbardo to draft a letter to the State Division of Highways informing it that Fairfax intends to have a say on the routing of Highway 17 from Point San Quentin to Point Reyes Station.
7. Designated Sept. 29 as United Nations Day in Fairfax and named Sumbardo U.N. Day director.
8. Designated Sept. 9-12 as "women in construction week" in Fairfax.

Cities' Resolutions Behind Re-hearing Of NWP Rail Plea

Larkspur, Corte Madera Say Their Stands Were Restricted

Larkspur and Corte Madera councils are on record before the Interstate Commerce Commission as supporting abandonment of the Sausalito branch of the Northern Pacific Railroad, though they may have meant something less than complete abandonment.

Petitions from the cities were considered by the ICC as one of the factors that led it to grant the railroad a re-hearing on its bid to abandon San Rafael, Tiburon and Sausalito, service.

The council support was considered even though some councilmen meant only to back abandonment of the portion of the branch line in their cities, not the entire line.

This spring the railroad company asked the cities to support their request to abandon the Sausalito branch line, and the issue came up at council meetings.

The Larkspur City Council voted in favor of abandonment of the branch line Apr. 7, with the comment that they were referring to abandonment in Larkspur only.

Yet, the ICC reported it had petitions from Larkspur, Corte Madera and the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce supporting abandonment of the entire branch line.

The Corte Madera Town Council passed a resolution April 19 favoring abandonment of the branch line, after agreeing to abandonment of tracks in Corte Madera.

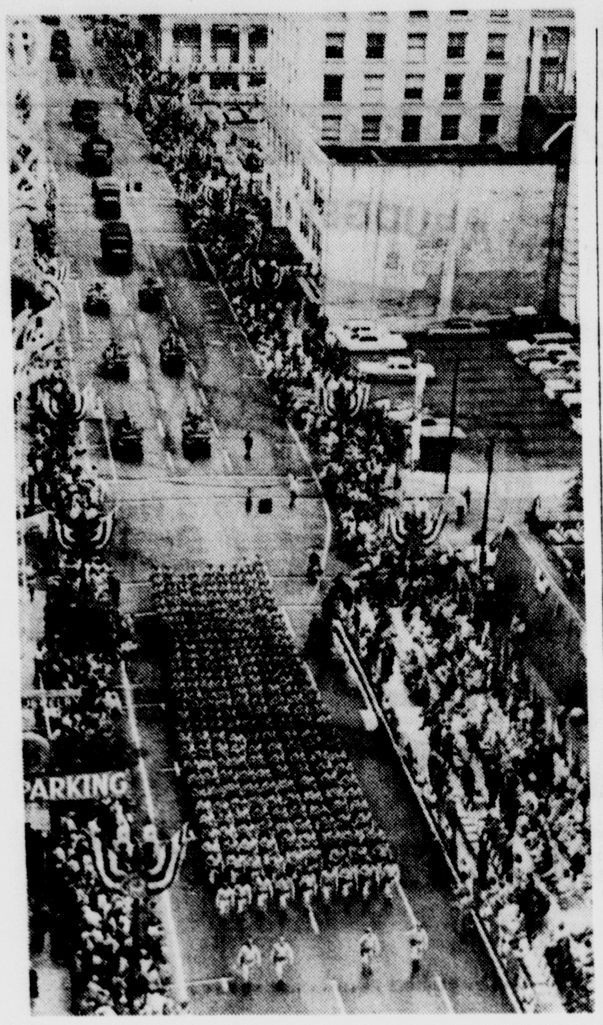

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton said the council had considered only the portion of the line that goes through Corte Madera.

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce voted April 22 in support of the abandonment request by asking for removal of the tracks through the center of Corte Madera.

Piper said abandonment of the entire Sausalito branch would have to be considered with abandonment of the Larkspur portion because "Larkspur is the head of the line."

The City of Tiburon, the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce and the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. supported Northwestern's bid to abandon service on the main line betwgeen Meadowsweet and Tiburon.

Date of the hearing which will be held in San Francisco, has not yet been set.

LBJ Birthday Surprise Afoot

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson flew to the LBJ Ranch in Texas last night to work on plans for the President's library and plan a celebration for his 57th birthday on Friday.

The First Lady's press secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, said Mrs. Johnson suddenly decided to make the trip during the afternoon.

Johnson is expected to join his wife at the ranch later this week. The celebration of his birthday was expected to be a family affair, with Mrs. Johnson planning several "surprise" gifts.

Chamber Will Deal With Bad Checks

Members of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce plan a special meeting soon to work out a system so fewer merchants will be hurt by bad check writers and phony "charity" schemes.

The chamber's business development committee is scheduled to set up such a session when it meets at noon tomorrow at the Redwood Club in the Kaehler-Farrar Building, San Rafael.

Four In Disturbance Scheduled In Court

Two San Jose men charged with felonies and a third with a misdemeanor following a Saturday night fracas with Novato police were scheduled to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Austin Dwaine Yeager, 24, is charged with felony escape from the officiers; Jimmy D. Bane, 21, faces a felony complaint of aiding Yeager to escape, and Bane's cousin, James Howard Bane, 25, and Yeager are charged with disturbing the peace at Cloud Five Restaurant, 1009 First Street, Novato, and with assault on Arhie Sawyer, co-owner of the restaurant, and Police Sgt. Walter W. Wiedauer.

A fourth man, Marvin W. Lawson, 25, was not charged.

Police arrived at the restaurant following a report of a disturbance. Sawyer said he was attacked and kicked.

Arriving officers said they caught James H. Bane descending the roof of the Novato fire station on Highway 101 across from the restaurant, but said one officer was hurt when the suspect attempted to flee.

Yeager allegedly fell from the roof, cutting his face. He and Bane were removed to San Rafael General Hospital but Yeager escaped, officers said.

California Highway Patrol later halted a car in which Yeager, Lawson, and James D. Bane were riding and they joined James H. Bane, already in custody.

Tested Squirrel Shows No Rabies

Tests have shown no evidence of rabies in a squirrel which two Marinwood youngsters saw shivering near Miller Creek Thursday, the Marin County Health Department reported today.

Joseph Daly, 12, of 200 Adobestone Court, and his cousin, Gregory Simon, 14, carried the animal home in a bag, then turned it over to sheriff's deputies.

No Session

The regular meeting of the Corte Madera Board of design was not held last night because no application for review by the board was received. Next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Sept. 27.

POLICE CHIEF KEEPS RULES UP TO DATE

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — Police Chief Norman Bowers has announced a new regulation that will make his policemen liable for any damages to patrol cars if the men are found negligent.

The city bought five new cars two monthe ago, and two have been damaged.

Bowers said last night the new rule replaces a 1928 regulation requiring policemen to keep their horses and wagons off the sidewalks.

Health Foundation Gets U.S. Grant

The Marin Mental Health Foundation has received a National Mental Health Act grant-in-aid of $8,000 for its psychiatric out-patient facility, which offers services to Marin County residents unable to pay for care, at Ross General Hospital.

Announcement of the grant was made today by Dr. James V. Lowry, director of the California Department of Mental Hygiene.

Study Continues On Giving Cities County-Tax Break

Further study on giving residents of cities a county tax break because they provide their own police protection is continuing at the staff level of local government, but it is difficult to find out what direction the study is taking.

Yesterday, city managers J. Julien Baget of Novato and Bert Balmer of Mill Valley meet for more than an hour with Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows at the Civic Center.

Barrows said today that nothing was decided and nothing could be said on the study. He explained the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen had designated the staffs of Mill Valley and Novato to work on the study.

Last week Novato was in a furor over a request of Mayor Robert D. Carrow for a study of cost of a contract with the county sheriff's department compared to that of operating a city police department.

Citizens took this as a slap at the police department and rushed to defend it. Mayor Carrow explained later that he wanted the information only as a "bargaining point" in the city-county services study.

Sleepy Hollow School Vandalism Reported

Malicious breaking of seven large windows and splattering of eggs on classroom walls at Hidden Valley School on Green Valley Court, Sleepy Hollow, was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Donald A. Wallace, school principal, told deputies $120 damage resulted from the vandalism, which occurred over the weekend.

Five Windows Reported Broken

Five broken windows were reported to San Rafael police yesterday and today.

Mrs. Clara Olson, 43, Fifth Avenue, reported yesterday at 2:50 p.m. that three windows on the west side of her home had been shot ont with a B-B gun.

A broken window at the front of her home was reported by Mrs. Janet M. Litzinger of 348 Arias Street, at 9 p.m.

Patrolman Terry Lucchesi reported finding a window broken at the Marin Medical Society, Hayes and First streets, at 2:15 a.m. today. A beer bottle was thrown through the glass, he said.

Next Space Step Is Uncertain

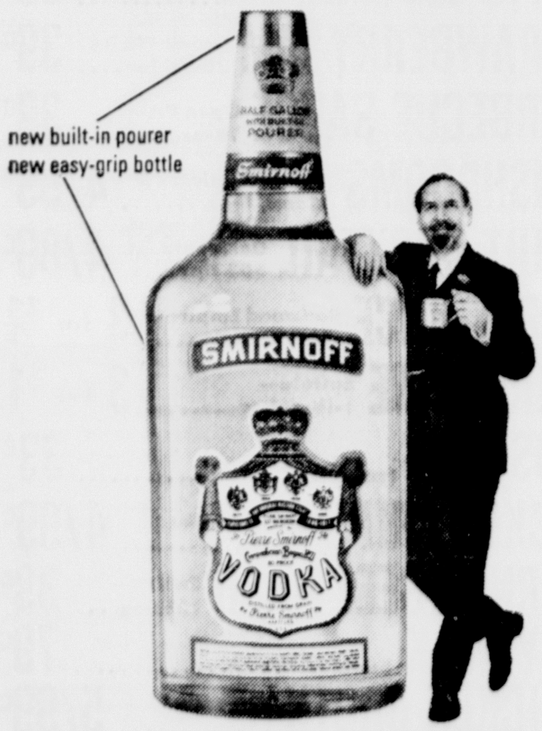

WASHINGTON (AP) — The next step in space after the United States lands a man on the moon is still uncertain, Congress has been told.

James E. Webb, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, testified yesteryesterday that Congress has not committed itself to putting a man on Mars by its support of funds for the unmanned Voyage program.

Webb told the Senate Space Committee this program includes a possible fly-by of Mars in 1969 and landing of an automated exploration craft in 1971. Then, he said, a better estimate can be obtained of the cost of a possible manned expedition.

HAZARDS OF A PEACE PICKET'S LIFE

Viet Nam Day Committee pickets clustered again in Berkeley yesterday to try to block movement of trains bearing troops bound for South Viet Nam—and again failed to halt the train. One demonstrator (left) stands his ground as the engine comes toward him at about 15 miles an hour, then barely manages to get out of the way (right). Another picket was arrested by police on a littering charge when he hurled a handful of protest pamphlets at the passing train.

Anti-Noise Ordinance Approved By Council

The Tiburon City Council passed an anti-noise ordinance last night, limited to mechanical contraptions such as radios, loudspeakers and amplifiers broadcasting onto downtown streets.

Councilmen hinted that if complaints continued about the noise of the jazz combo at the Prince Charlie Inn, a local pub, they might widen the enforcement powers of the ordinance.

"The city council doesn't want a blue nose town; we like to know people are having fun, but if the city receives many complaints . . .", said Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge.

Eric Hodgman, owner of the inn, said he had a petition with 600 signatures in favor of the entertainment, some signers being "as far away as Germany."

"I ddn't think you were that noisy," said Strawbridge with a sly smile.

The Tiburon city council also:

1. Continued consideration of whether to lease for city hall use the present post office from Belvedere Land Co. or lease the stucco building on the land-side of Paradise Drive from Tiburon Tidelands Corp., to gain more definite offers from both firms.

2. Continued consideration of plans for a storm drain down Tiburon Boulevard and/or Beach Road for study by county and state division of highways engineers.

3. Suspended the business license ordinance until a new one now being prepared is passed, but continued to require application for business licenses to be made to the city.

Air Force Tests Silo Missile

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —An Air Force Minuteman 2 rocket was fired out of an underground silo on a target 5,000 miles away in the South Atlantic yesterday, its ninth straight test flight without a miss.

The three-stage push button missile streaked into the sky in a 30-minute flight which the Air Force called "extremely successful."

Eventually, 1,000 Minuteman 2 missiles will be on stages, replacing the shorter range Minuteman 1. Minuteman 2 has a range of about 7,000 miles compared to about 5,000 for the earlier model.

U.S. Intervention Is Asked In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The machinery of rebuilding the city's riot-torn south-central area creaked into motion today, following renewed verbal sniping and new appeals for federal intervention.

Help for the riot area was forming on various fronts and a blue ribbon commission appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown planned to begin its probe of causes, with Gov. Brown as one of the first witnesses.

On the eve of the state hearing, top labor officials called on President Johnson to appoint a presidential commission to investigate the riots. The proposal was made by the Los Angeles County Labor Federation's executive board.

William Pollard of the national AFL-CIO civil rights department — here to work with local union leaders — said national action is needed to prevent recurring riots in Los Angeles and elsewhere.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty said he had wired President Johnson for the third time, asking that the riot area be declared a federal disaster zone.

Anti-Poverty Program Is Finally Started

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After being stalled nine months by a controversy over who was going to run it, the Los Angeles anti-poverty program is finally under way.

Undersecretary of Commerce Leroy Collins—sent to Los Angeles by President Johnson following the rioting in Watts — announced yesterday that an agreement had been reached on a group to administer the program.

A contingent representing minorities lost an effort to dominate the agency. The majority vote in the agreed-on agency will go to representatives of governmental bodies.

Collins said the new panel will consist of 25 members, including seven representatives of poverty areas themselves. Collins said Sargent Shriver, head of the Office of Economic Opportunity, confirmed the proposed group meets government standards and funds will be quickly released to it.

Action on disbursement of federal funds for Los Angeles projects has been held up pending agreement on the local agency. Some $20.9 million in funds have been requested. Of this $8.3 million have been approved for funding.

Tiburon Council Seeking Waterfront Plan Decision

By ELLEN BRY

The Tiburon City Council last night nudged its planning commission toward a decision on whether a commercial yacht harbor and restaurant-shops building should be allowed on the only remaining open Tiburon waterfront.

The council asked the commission to request city planning consultants for specific advice on whether the harbor and building would be "compatible and desirable," as the council worded it.

And the council, by 3-2 vote, "requested" the planning commission to give Tiburon Tidelands Co., the hopeful developers, a use permit if the consultant's opinion is favorable, or find reasons to deny granting one.

The vote was Councilmen Fred C. Hannahs, John S. Hoffmire Jr. and Mrs. Jacqueline A. Parnell in favor, with Mrs. Parnell the most vociferous in favor of "action."

The planning commission, during a joint session with the council last Wednesday, agreed to hold off decision until a complete downtown planning study had been completed by architects Callister and Payne of Tiburon.

But the commission also asked for a side opinion on just the harbor and restaurant construction.

After councilmen retired to the roll of spectators at the joint meeting, the commission appropriated $1,500 to speed the planning study by providing extra data and add a financial feasibility study of city purchase of some or all waterfront lands now under option from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to Tiburon Tidelands.

Company representatives say the firm must meet a Sept. 17 deadline to pick up the option and cannot raise the money to do it without the use permit.

The council at an earlier meeting had deadlocked 2-2, with Hoffmire absent, on appropriating $1,500 for a financial study. The subsequent planning commission action on the financial study brought strong protest from Mrs. Parnell. She said the commission "may not properly vote funds."

In letters to councilmen, Frederick E. Watson, attorney for Tiburon Tidelands, wrote that if a use permit were not granted "immediately" the company might sue the city, asking up to $2 million in damages and charging the city is holding up the use permit so Tiburon could buy the land at a lower price.

Robert Moor of Tiburon Tidelands has offered to sell three of his 18 waterfront and underwater acres to the city for $250,000.

"It would appear to an . . . outside observer that if you can't get something done at the council, go to the planning commission," Mrs. Parnell said.

"Are we concerned with the future of the city or with getting a developer off the hook?" asked Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge, voting against the motion which pressed for action by the planning commission.

"My concern for the developer will always be secondary to that of the city," said Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, voting in favor of the motion.

Practically all of the dates produced in California are grown on about 4500 acres in Coachella Valley.

Encampment Finished

Cadet Stephen W. Bowcock, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Bowcock of 128 Fernwood Drive, San Rafael, has completed the first cadet flying encampment of the Civil Air Patrol at Elmira, N.Y. He was one of 92 cadets from 50 states.

'View From Bridge' On Actors' List

The Green Room Players, a newly organized acting group of Marin high school and college students, will present Arthur Miller's "View from the Bridge," at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at Redwood High School.

Proceeds, after expenses, will go toward a drama scholarship in the Tamalpais High School District, reported Greg Norgaard, a founder of the group.

GIVEN ROCK TO THROW

Negro Assemblyman Says Housing, Training Needed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—"They asked me whose side I was on and I said, 'Man, I'm on your side.'

"Then they asked me, 'Where you been all the time:' and handed me a rock to throw."

The speaker yesterday was Negro Assemblyman Mervyn Dymally , a Democrat whose district was the center of the recent Los Angeles Negro riot.

He told a news conference of the incident when he talked to a group of rioting youths and tried to get them to stop heaving rocks.

The incident, he said, showed he and other Negro leaders have lost contact to a great extent with the average Negro citizen of the city's slum, predominantly Negro areas where unemployment is as high as 33 per cent.

"We've been pushing for civil rights but we've completely missed the point in Watts . . . We've got to give these people housing and vocational retraining," Dymally declared.

Dymally, previously an ally of Mayor Samuel Yorty of Los Angeles, said he feels Yorty is disliked by most Los Angeles Negroes, mainly because he backs Police Chief William Parker, a key point of Negro complaint.

But, the assemblyman added, Negroes generally hold Gov. Brown — who often has clashed with fellow Democrat Yorty—"in great esteem." They feel Brown is responsive and concerned about their problems, Dymally reported.

He said he was trying to contact leaders of young Negroes who accounted for most of the damage in the devastated riot area.

Sausalito Names New School Chief

Charles Lavaroni of San Anselmo was named superintendent of the Sausalito School District last night, effective Sept. 1.

Lavaroni, who is 38, is assistant superintendent for elementary education of Novato Unified School District.

He replaces Marcus F. Davis, who resigned July 1, as Sausalito superintendent. He will be paid $15,500 for his first year and $16,000 the second.

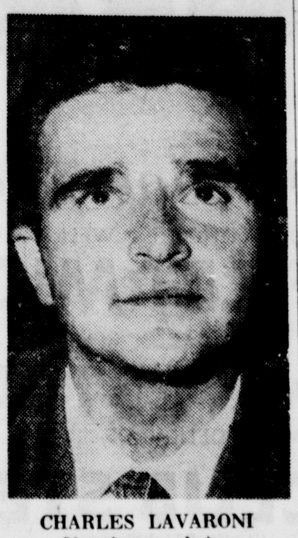

Kenneth Lowry, administrative assistant to the county schools superintendent, is acting Sausalito superintendent until Lavaroni takes over.

"I'm excited about the opportunity to work there," Lavaroni said today. "It's one part in this whole country that's ready to step out and I'm glad to be part of it."

Sausalito School District trustees took unanimous action on the selection last night, David E. Freedheim, board president, saying, "He is a creative educator, a skillful administrator, a highly respected individual."

"The man we picked was most qualified to deal with the problems we will be faced with in the coming semesters in the fact we have a totally desegregated school," said Trustee Nathaniel Johnson.

Lavaroni, who lives at 33 Alderney Road with his wife, Barbara, and children, Cathy, 13, Peter, 9, and John, 5, was graduated from San Francisco State College in 1949.

CHARLES LAVARONI
Unanimous choice

He began teaching in Novato at Marion School. In 1953 he became principal of Hill School, and in 1958 was made principal of Olive School. He moved to Hanford, Kings County, in 1960 to be assistant Kings County superintendent of schools. Returning to Marin last year, he became assistant superintendent of San Jose School District. He was absorbed into the staff of the Novato district, where he had previously served, with merger of the two districts this year.

Trustees, Frouge Plan School-Needs Session

Sausalito School District trustees last night tabled until mid-September action on setting up a building study group, because they want to hear Marincello's school needs.

They agreed to invite representatives of Frouge Corp., developers of the proposed planned community "just over the hump from Sausalito," to meet with the board Sept. 13.

Acting Supt. Kenneth Lowry told trustees the corporation is "anxious to cooperate in any way possible." He said Frouge has informed both Sausalito and the county superintendent of schools office that the company is willing to plan "any way this district would desire."

Although Marincello has planned five elementary school sites, the corporation would allow acreage to go to a "plaza site" of 40-50 acres, Lowry said.

"Things are moving along very well" on Sausalito district's renovation program, Lowry reported. He said furniture and playground equipment is being moved and plans being made for painting and landscaping. Bus schedules are to be ready this week.

Dr. Wolfgang Lederer, Sausalito psychiatrist, said he was "all for" Dr. Richard I. Foster's desegregation plan for the district, but said some parents are "quite concerned" about safety of Richardson Bay School children. He also said there may be de facto segregation if ability grouping is retained.

"We don't anticipate discipline problems and will do everything to prevent them from happening," said Freedheim. Classroom grouping has not been determined yet, he said, but the board is to consider it at a meeting Monday with recommendations to be heard from Lowry and the new superintendent, Charles Lavaroni. The board will also consider bids for painting Manzanita and Richardson Bay schools Monday.

The board agreed to be "guests" at a staff meeting called by Lowry for today at 8 p.m. at the district office.

The Sausalito School District Board Also:

1. Accepted resignation of Gwendolyn Sisk, fourth grade teacher at Central School.
2. Approved employment of Mrs. Dorothy Tolpegin, former district librarian, on a part-time basis for four weeks to supply books for school libraries.
3. Agreed to seek a second fulltime librarian for the new school year and to hire James Murdock as music teacher and Mrs. Wanda Jones as speech therapist.
4. Ratified employment in the pre-school program of Mrs. Beatrice O. Brown, Marin City, as director; Mrs. Adah-Marie Miller, Sacramento, counselor; Mrs. Wanda Jones, Tiburon, speech therapist; Julie Simpson, Marin City; Mrs. Elaine Heller, San Francisco, Mrs. Mattie Knighten, Marin City, and Janet Weinstein, Los Angeles, teachers; Virginia Kay Gillis, San Francisco, nurse, and Dr. Mary Lane, San Francisco, consultant.
5. Agreed to contract with the county superintendent of schools for data processing service to cost $1.21 per pupil.
6. Requested loan of $200,000 from Marin County pending receipt of tax monies.
7. Directed a letter be written to Mrs. Santafe Moses and her staff thanking them for their work for Head Start project.

Police Didn't Know Felons Were Wanted

The Oregon police who captured two San Quentin fugitives yesterday didn't know the men were escaped convicts when they made the arrests.

A United Press International report said police in The Dalles, Ore., picked up convicts Donald Padgett, 31, and Harold Roney, 35, after they were spotted in a service station with a car stolen at Eugene, Ore., Sunday.

The men offered no resistance, although they had a loaded shotgun in the car. They admitted later they were escapees from San Quentin.

This came as a surprise to The Dalles police, who had not been notified to be on the lookout for the pair, despite the fact that Padgett's home is in Klamath Falls, Ore.

Irving O. Ritter, acting warden at San Quentin, said today that hundreds of bulletins about the escape were sent out to police in the western states.

"The usual number were sent to Oregon," he said, "but you couldn't possibly cover everything."

Roney and Padgett escaped over the prison wall Aug. 11 while the nearest guard was decoyed by a yet-untraced telephone call. It was the first escape from the main prison in three years.

Mexico Quake Kills

MEXICO CITY (AP) — At least four persons were dead in Mexico City today in the aftermath of an earthquake that rocked hundreds of square miles of central Mexico during siesta time Monday. The fatalities were blamed on fallen power lines.

Leydecker, Storer Doubt Rail Need In South Marin

County supervisors Byron W. Leydecker and Thomas T. Storer today expressed doubt on the merits of continuing the fight to restore Northwestern Pacific Railroad service to Southern Marin.

Leydecker said he knew of no economic justification for the long-drawn-out battle.

Board Chairman Peter H. Behr quickly referred Leydecker to the extensive documents submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which he said showed justification. Leydecker and Storer both asked to see the material.

Personally, I feel it is very questionable," Storer said.

"You may change your mind when you see the report," Behr said.

The discussion arose when Storer suggested the board keep its eye on current litigation over the railroad right of way, with the idea of acquiring it for rapid transit.

At normal highway speeds, motorists wishing to pass a vehicle ahead need half a mile of road to complete the pass.

Kennedys Visit Cardinal Cushing

BOSTON (AP)—John F. Kennedy Jr. and his sister Caroline are among some 20 Kennedy cousins to sing "Happy Birthday to an old friend, Richard Cardinal Cushing.

The Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston was 70 and arranged an unorthodox party.

Although on many occasions in his honor, this year he altered his custom.

He said he would throw the party himself — and he would give the presents.

John, 4, and Caroline, 7, the two children of the late President Kennedy, several cousins and their mothers chartered a bus to attend a luncheon at the cardinal's residence in Brighton.

Cable Cars Try Out Windshield Wipers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One of San Francisco's cable cars has been equipped with a new safety device — a windshield wiper.

Officials say they are considering installing the wipers on all the cars. It would be the first major innovation of the famed cable cars since they were installed in the last century.

Johnson Likely To Leave Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson will leave his post in South Viet Nam soon, informed sources said today.

Johnson arrived here soon after Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor became ambassador in June 1964. Taylor replaced Henry Cabot Lodge, who has since returned to the post for a second tour of duty.

Johnson's role was considered unusual because he was second man in the diplomatic mission, though having the rank of ambassador.

WHEN A FELLER MEETS A FRIEND

It's calf-love at first sight, as James Bride, 2, of Monmouth, Ill., meets this young Hereford while visiting the Iowa State Fair at De Moines, yesterday. Father Fred Bride almost had to abandon his son to the lure of the cattle barn, as the youngster first hugged the calf, then led it all around the barn, spurning father's pleas to go look at the other exhibits. Cold Night Spent By Dipsea Runner

A 13-year-old Berkeley youth, lost in Marin County last night during a practice long-distance run for Sunday's Dipsea race, showed up cold and sleepy but otherwise unharmed at Muir Woods Shop early today.

He had been the object of a sheriff's search of seven deputies and Stinson Beach volunteer firemen and a jeep from about 10 p.m. yesterday until 2 a.m. today, when the search was called off until daylight.

Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Bertrand said the youth, Steven David Ricks, his brother, Bruce, 13, and Jack Forrest, 18, of Albany, drove to Mill Valley last yesterday.

Clad in T-shirts, running shorts and shoes, the trio began the Dipsea trail run from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach at 7:15 p.m., the officer said. Bruce and Jack went ahead, last seeing Steven at a point called Lone Pine near Muid Woods.

When Steven failed to arrive at Stinson Beach, the sheriff's office was summoned.

Bertrand said Steven told him he got on the wrong trail, walked until after 9 p.m., then lay down and tried to sleep until daylight.

Hub Town House Plan Decision Postponed

After nearly two hours of discussion and four roll call votes, the San Anselmo planning commission last night postponed action on a use permit for 44 town houses near the Hub intersection.

The commission will consider Sept. 7 requiring public hearings on change in the basic concept of planned unit development allow town houses, proposed by Norman T. Gilroy, said City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell.

After lengthy discussion, Commissioner Warren Perry moved to approve Gilroy's application for resubdivision of the area for individual parcels for each town house and the use permit for construction. The motion died for lack of a second.

Commissioner John West's motion to continue the matter for two weeks and Duane C. Ragan's motion to refer the applications back to Gilroy for revision both died in 3-3 votes. Commissioners Alan J. Creighton, Edward L. Nordmann and Jerry W. Lloyd voted against the motions. James Murphy was absent.

The vote on the second motion of the evening to continue the matter for two weeks, made by Perry, was unanimous.

The San Anselmo Planning Commission Also:

1. Set for Sept. 20 consideration of a 10-parcel tentative map of subdivision 1 on the Short Ranch off The Alameda, because the applicant, Harry Johnson, was not represented last night.
2. Set for Sept. 20 public hearing on an application for a use and occupancy permit for a four-plex at 15 and 17 Humboldt Avenue in a single-family residential area, owned by Elder Hill of 69 Lincoln Avenue, San Anselmo. Complaints had been received about congestion caused on the Hillside by lack of on-site parking for occupants of the building.
3. Agreed to have Lloyd rewrite the proposed architectural review ordinance to clarify its scope.
4. Asked the city attorney to prepare amendments to the subdivision ordinance to allow 18 months between approval of a and filing the final map. Another and filing thef inal map. Another amendment would require soil reports on all proposed subdivisions.

Sanitary Board Discusses Annex

The proposed Bothin Marina development on the edge of the City of Mill Valley can be annexed for sewer service to the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District, directors of the district agreed last night.

Request for annexation came from E. Elmore Hutchison, San Francisco consulting engineer.

Directors discussed at length the proposed assessment district for Waldo Point ark and barge owners, but took no formal action, agreeing to present the proposal to the county board of supervisors.

Girl, 13, Injured Walking Into Truck

A Novato girl, walking beside Wilson Avenue yesterday, turned abruptly and collided with a truck on the street, suffering minor bruises, Novato police reported.

Corinne Russell Braly, 13, of 465 Fairway Drive, walked into the back of a truck driven by Alvin Artellan, 54, of 103 Nelson Street, Mill Valley, at 3:49 p.m. about 200 feet south of Center Road, police said. Shew as treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

Novato School Chief's Wife Gets Divorce

The wife of James G. Bunker, 53-year-old superintendent of Novato Unified School District, today was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce on grounds of cruelty and infliction of mental suffering.

The suit, uncontested before Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court, was filed only yesterday afternoon.

Lorene M., wife of the superintendent almost 28 years, won custody of their third child and only minor, Michael, 20; alimony of $600 monthly until December and $700 monthly thereafter, and $1 monthly support for Michael.

The terms were part of a property settlement worked out prior to filing for divorce. The couple wed in Berkeley on Oct. 16, 1937, and separated last July 5. They have resided at 26 Truman Drive, Novato.

Bunker was first hired as superintendent of the Novato school district effective July 1, 1962. On Dec. 7, 1964, he was named superintendent of the new district created by merger of Novato and San Jose districts under a four-year contract.

The couple's other two children are Mrs. Catharine Alice Brice of Berkeley and Sarah M. Bunker of Novato.

Supervisors Fill District Vacancy

Harry W. Thomas of 805 Descanso Way, Santa Venetia, was restored to the board of directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District today.

He was named by Marin County supervisors to replace James Wiese, who resigned several weeks ago.

Thomas, a supervisor with the state department of employment in San Francisco, served on the CSD board from 1958 to 1962.

Supervisors today also reappointed Dr. R. W. Brunstetter to the county mental health advisory board.

AEC Measure In Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to provide $4.3 billion for the Atomic Energy Commission and a variety of public works awaits compromise on some $86 million differences between the Senate and House versions.

The Senate passed the big bill yesterday without a roll call. Its total was $4,327,589,000—or $85,952,500 above the total in the House craft.

Most of the appropriations is for the Atomic Energy Commission.

San Jose Kidnapers Surrender In Nevada

FERNLEY, Nev. (UPI)—Two armed gunmen surrendered to an army of law officers today after barricading themselves inside a rural ranch house with 11 hostages.

The two men were cornered in the house after a wild gunshot-filled chase from a Sparks, Nev., restaurant.

The suspects kidnaped a couple last night from their home in San Jose, Calif., and took them to Sparks, where one of the hostages slipped a note to a waitress asking for help as they stopped at a restaurant.

The men meekly waked out of the front door of the barricaded house and surrendered to FBI agents and Nevada highway patrolmen.

The gunmen held four hostages at the time they surrendered. They had turned loose five children and an unidentified man earlier.

The remaining hostages carried the guns out the back door as the men left through the front with their hands raised.

The San Jose couple was Omar Ponder, 19, and his wife, Wanda, 18.

One of the abductors was believed to be James Robert Gourlay, 22, a soldier on leave from the San Francisco Presidio who was a house guest of the victims.

The abduction took place after a family party at the Ponder home. Gourlay, wanted by San Jose police in connection with three recent armed robberies, apparently mentioned the robberies during the party. Family members said he became angry when questioned further about them.

After most of the guests had left about 10 p.m., Gourlay and his companion brought out guns and forced the Ponders to leave with them. Ponder's sister-in-law, Mrs. Irene Ponder, told police her 10-year-old son saw the actual abduction while she was out of the room.

When she returned, she found a note which read: "I've got them and I'll kill them."

Police later found a pistol and dark glasses in the bedroom Gourlay had used which matched those used in at least three recent San Jose area holdups.

The kidnapers left behind the Ponders' two children, Debbie, 1, and Kevin, 2 months.

Jury Questions Tax Consultant

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Grand Jury yesterday heard two hours of tsetimony from Castro Valley tax consultant James C. Tooke, a central figure in an investigation of alleged tax assessment irregularities.

A former employe of Tooke's, Norman Phillips, has claimed the consultant obtained reductions in his clients' personal property assessments by paying off tax assessors.

Although the testimony was not made public, it is believed the jurors questioned Tooke about alleged kickbacks in the San Francisco assessor's office.

Bay Parcel Purchase Is Approved

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, sitting as the governing board of County Flood Control Zone 3, today approved the $38,300 purchase of 2.2 acres of tideland in Richardson Bay necessary for protection of the proposed Richardson Bay channel.

The channel, to provide access to the Mill Valley Small Boat Harbor, will be constructed under an assessment district which is now being formed, county public works director Donald R. Frost said.

The price was set by appraisals, Frost said. Seller of the land, just east of Richardson Bay Bridge, was T. R. Nowell Jr.

Frost said only one more purchase will be necessary to clear the way for canal dredging.

Geysers are among nature's rarest phenomena, existing in significant numbers only in Yellowstone Park, Wyoming, Iceland and New Zealand.

Mental Health Center Cooperation Approved

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, despite some reservations from Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, today approved unanimously an agreement with the Marin Hospital District for construction and operation of a mental health center at Marin General Hospital in Kentfield.

The $1,350,000 project will be financed through $450,000 from the federal government, $450,000 from the state, $150,000 in donations from private citizens, $150,000 from the county, and $150,000 from the hospital district. In addition, the district will donate the land for the building.

Leydecker objected that there was no provision in the contract with the hospital district for an amicable termination. He thought there should be a provision for the hospital to buy the structure by paying the county back the money the county has put into it.

"When you get married, you don't make arrangements for the divorce," Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said.

Larkspur Resident Treated For Overdose

Roselind Wall, 46, of 505 Magnolia Avenue, Apt. 11, Larkspur, was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for an overdose of medication.

Larkspur police were called to the apartment shortly after 6 p.m. when neighbors reported she was hysterical. She said she had taken some kind of medication but police were unable to determine what it was or how much she'd taken. She was transferred to Napa State Hospital for observation.

HOW TRANS-BAY TUBE WILL BE BUILT

Bay Area Rapid Transit District artists depict how the huge twin tube for rapid transit trains will be constructed from San Francisco to Oakland. From caisson near Ferry Building at left, workmen will bore upwards into downtown San Francisco, while divers and big, crane-equipped barges lower pre-cast sections of tube to bay bottom at right. The partly submerged tower atop tube at right will help engineers make sightings to properly align the submerged sections. First construction contracts for the multi-million-dollar, three-year project are expected to be awarded this fall. The Oakland Estuary's much shorter Posey Tube was built in much the same manner.

Five-Acre Novato Plan Gains Approval

The Novato planning commission last night approved the tentative map of Gus Raxetz' proposed Redwood Gardens subdivision at Railroad Avenue and Cherry Street, to be divided into 18 lots. The commission provided restriction that utilities may be "streamlined," and not requiring underground installation.

The Novato commission also:

1. Recommended rezoning from single family to light industrial use of a half acre north of Olive Avenue between Railroad Avenue and Cerro Vista Unit 3, owned by Alfred Belluce.

2. Recommended rezoning from multiple dwelling to multiple with highway restrictions of two lots on the east side of Sixth Street, 150 feet north of Grant Avenue, owned by P. J. Tarrant Inc.

3. Approved a three-lot subdivision by Bellucci on Indian Valley Road south of Hill Road.

4. Continued until Aug. 30 consideration of architectual approval for a storage bunker for McPhails Inc. on Highway 101 north of Highway 37 and a request by Ted Schuman Chevrolet to develop a portion of property north of Novato Creek west of Highway 101 without filing a master plan.

5. Continued until Sept. 13 the tentative may of View Acres of 20 lots on 14 acres at the end of Canyon Road, submitted by Eleanor Sawyer, and a request for rezoning from single to multiple family of a lot at 1133 Second Street, for Alfred J. Villa.

Trustees Preview San Geronimo High

Trustees of Tamalpais High Hospital District last night had a preview of what a proposed San Geronimo high school would look like if a $5,750,000 bond issue for construction of it and completion of Redwood High School is approved by voters on Nov. 16.

The architectural firm of Gromme and Priestley of San Rafael drew up plans for the San Geronimo school, which would be built with $3 million of the bond issue and would house 700 to 750 students.

It would be the first phase of a school later to be expanded with funds not in the bond issue. It would contain classrooms, lecture hall, library, and a gymnasium which could be used for classrooms until additions complete the school in future years.

Also included would be a swimming pool which architects explained would be difficult to add in future years when buildings already are built nearby and less expensive to construct with this first phase of the school.

Not included in the building would be home economics, shop classrooms and some administration offices which would not come under the bond issue.

The bonds also would pay for $2,750,000 for completion of Redwood High. Trustees approved a contract with the architects last night to design what is estimated to be a $200,000 addition to the canteen facilities, such as enclosing the present outdoor eating area, adding a teacher lunchroom and additions to the canteen itself.

The cost is to be included in the bond issue. If bonds don't pass, Trustee J. M. Stubblebine suggested the work was so necessary that it should be paid for from regular district funds.

The Tamalpais District Trustees Also:

1. Answered a question from the Marin County Planning Commission by saying that trustees believe Marincello should have a high school which also would serve as a community center.

2. Renewed contracts with Greyhound Bus Lines to transport students from Bolinas and Stinson Beach to Tamalpais High School and from Nicasio and Lagunitas to Sir Francis Drake High School at a cost of $94 a day. The contract for bus service for field trips was changed from $47.50 for five-hour bus use to $55.

3. Approved payment of $30,724 to engineers Engle and Engle of San Rafael for engineering, architectural work, inspections and other fees for preparation of plans for the Redwood High School completion which would come under the bond issue.

4. Reaffirmed its stand that land owned by the district in Marin City would be used for educational purposes, whether as a high school, as under the present district plan, or for some other educational building under a possibly unified district.

5. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Silva Jones as German and English teacher at Redwood and Mrs. Mary Ellen Knoedler as physical education teacher at Tamalpais High School; hired Glenda Gentry as English and German teacher at Redwood and Mrs. Hildegard M. Proll as French and German teacher at Redwood.

Official Oath Administered To Marshall

WASHINGTON (AP)— Thurgood Marshall, the first Negro ever to become solicitor general of the United States, was sworn in today and received unstinted praise from President Johnson.

Justice Hugo L. Black of the Supreme Court, who administered the oath at a White House ceremony, also praised Marshall as a lawyer and predicted he would be one of the great solicitors.

Marshall, who resigned as a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 2nd Circuit to accept the new appointment, is the 33rd solicitor general.

In that office he is the chief advocate for the government in all its litigations before the supreme court.

Johnson noted that Marshall is the first Negro to hold the office and said "race really no longer serves a bar to the exercise of one's skill."

Johnson also spoke of Marshall's many victories in the Supreme Court in civil rights cases.

Cotton is one of the oldest and most valuable plants grown by man. It is known that cotton was in use in India and China hundreds of years before the birth of Christ.

Rec, Parks Commission Up To Strength

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today appointed Melton Ferris of 460 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, as member at large of the county parks and recreation commission, finally bringing the commission to its full membership of seven.

The action came after considerable give and take among board members. Supervisor George H. Gnoss asked that William Keener of Novato, owner of the Page Construction Co., be named, but other board members said Novato was already amply represented on the commission.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said he had a woman he wanted to appoint, but she was on vacation and he had not had a chance to talk with her. He would name her, but asked for a week's continuance.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, who proposed Ferris said the board had earlier agreed there would be no more continuances.

Mrs. Jean Barnard of Mill Valley, said from the audience that the commission would not be meeting again until Sept. 15 and a week's delay might not matter.

However, the supervisors finally voted unanimously for Ferris.

Ferris, 49, is executive director of the California Council of the American Institute of Architects. He is a property owner in both Inverness and Bolinas, and Storer said, has done considerable work on recreation problems in Bolinas. He is a member of several yacht clubs.

A new ordinance, in effect this spring, increased the membership of the commission from five to seven, but the board has taken considerable time in naming the additional members.

Kettenhofen Seeking Fire Tax Adjustment

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen today urged that further adjustments be made in the structural fire tax picture, but a legal block may stop his idea.

In a memo to fellow board members, Kettenhofen suggested that only the improvements be taxed in unincorporated areas for the county tax levied for structural fire protection.

In recent board action, city district taxpayers were given a one-cent break in their county taxes, the portion needed to pay for structural fire protection by the county. Taxpayers in unincorporated areas will pay eight cents more to make up the difference.

Kettenhofen said that property owners in unincorporated areas should not pay this tax on unimproved land.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said it is not legal to levy a tax only on a portion of the local assessment. Supervisors asked that this be confirmed with the county counsel's office.

Reduction In Bond Payment Sought In Kentfield Schools

Attempts will be made to reduce redemption payments on $182,000 worth of bonds for proposed construction projects in the Kentfield School District before the bond sale is authorized, Dist. Supt. Howard C. Harmon said today.

"The district board last night directed me to work with the county auditor to revise the redemption schedule so that taxes to repay an old loan from the state and redeem the bonds will not increase greatly during the next five years," Harmon said.

A special meeting of the district board will be held at 7:45 p.m. Monday at Wolfe Grade School to again discuss authorizing the sale of the bonds for construction and remodeling projects in the district's schools.

The board authorized hiring Frederick Cooper of San Anselmo and William Gow Jung of Novato as custodians at $433 per month, effective Aug. 16.

Cash Register Foils Museum Burglar

A burglar broke into the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum at 76 Albert Park Lane, San Rafael, Lloyd B. Smalley Jr., a museum employee, reported Sunday to San Rafael police.

Nothing was taken, but a cash register was tampered with, reported Smalley. He said the burglar entered between 6:30 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday by removing a window.

Berkeley Crash Kills 3 Sailors

BERKELEY (UPI) — Three men were killed today when their small car smashed into a pillar of the Ashby Avenue underpass here and burst into flames.

Two of the victims were identified as Franklin L. Martin, 28, and Stephen Paul Allen, 18.

The third man in the vehicle was not immediately identified.

All were believed to be sailors from the aircraft carrier Hancock stationed at Hunters Point.

Highway Patrol officers said the car smashed after failing to negotiate a turn.

Escaper Gets More State Prison Time

A sentence of six months to five years in state prison was given Richard Joseph Jurczak, 36, in Marin Superior Court yesterday for his April 5 escape from the firehouse just outside San Quentin Prison walls.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner made the term concurrent with a sentence he was serving for possession of firearms by a convicted felon in Los Angeles County on Feb. 20, 1962.

The San Rafael railroad station was built for the San Francisco and North Pacific Coast Railroad by Peter Donahue, sole owner of the road, who completed a line from Cloverdale to Tiburon in 1884.

Convicts Escape Humboldt Camp

Two convicts walked away from a San Quentin Prison camp at Weott in Humbolt County last night.

Acting Warden Irving O. Ritter said the two men were missing at the midnight count. He said they took nothing and were dressed in prison denims when they escaped.

The two are Huston Jones, 47, serving five years to life for a Sacramento conviction of first degree robbery, and Luther Dow Pearce, 37, serving six months to five years for a Humboldt conviction of possession of a firearm by an ex-felon.

Peace Pickets Plan For Taylor's Visit

BERKELEY (UPI) — Members of the Viet Nam Day Committee, a group opposed to the U.S. effort in Viet Nam, said they will picket former U.S. ambassador Maxwell Taylor during his appearance in San Francisco tomorrow.

The committee said they would establish picket lines in front of the Commonwealth Club, where Taylor is scheduled to deliver an address at noon.

Boy, 12, Saves Brothers In Fire

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — A 13-year-old boy risked his life yesterday by dashing into a flaming garage and pulling his two younger brothers from the inferno.

Kern County firemen say Mark Roberts saved his brothers' lives.

Gary, 2, and Michael, 4, were pouring gasoline into a lawn mower when the fumes were ignited by a nearby hot water heater.

Both boys were hospitalized with serious burns. Mark was not badly hurt.

Steel Plant Cost Now $400 Million

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — Bethlehem Steel Corp. announced plans yesterday to spend another $50 million for its new Burns Harbor, Ind., facility, bringing the total spent and authorized to date to $400 million.

Edmund F. Martin, chairman, said in a letter to Indiana Governor Roger D. Branigan that the Bethlehem Steel Board of Directors had approved the new expenditure to permit the company to take advantage of certain technological advances that have been made in steel since the construction of the plant began.

Market Irregularly Higher At Closing

NEW YORK (AP)—Airlines and selected issues were strong as the stock market closed irregularly higher today.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 4.47 million yesterday.

KLM airlines rallied from a loss exceeding a point and showed a net gain of a point in very active trading. It was sold at the start after stop orders were banned by the exchange.

Other airlines caught fire. Northwest Airlines spurted more than 2. TWA was up nearly 2. Pan American, American and Eastern advanced more than a point each. United eased.

Among rails, Chicago & North Western rose nearly 3 and its preferred well over 2. Milwaukee Road also advanced well over 2 points. Chicg Great Western and Rock Island gained well over a point each.

Driving to successive new highs, IBM reached the price of 500, racking up a 5-point gain. Texas Instruments climbed nearly 6. Polaroid rose 2, Xerox and U.S. Smelting well over a point each.

Despite these flashy performances, the market averages posted only modest gains because most auto stocks were lower, steels were narrowly mixed, building materials declined and tobaccos showed little change.

W. R. Grace was off a fraction as the company denied a rumor that grace line is going out of business

Prices rose in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Billing Envelope Manufacturer To Open Marin Regional Office

A San Francisco firm, James E. Howard Co., manufacturer of billing envelopes such as are used by doctors and dentists, is opening a northern regional office in Marin.

Quarters have been leased in the Mission Union Building of Dreyer-Wilson and Co., San Rafael. Mrs. Howard will be in charge. She and her husband are San Rafael residents.

This closes out available space in the Mission Union Building.

MARIN PLASTICS has moved its office and warehouse from 51 Joseph Court, San Rafael, to 49 Industrial Way, Greenbrae. That address is just off Lucky Drive, east of Highway 101. There's a new telephone number.

M. F. (WOODY) BELLO of Napa replaces C. F. (Chuck) Agee as representative in Marin, Sonoma and Napa counties for Pitney-Bowes, Inc., manufacturer of postage meter and other office machines. Agee, a resident of Oakland, has taken over a territory closer to his home—southern Alameda County. The Pitney-Bowes office in San Rafael is at 914 Irwin Street.

ARCHITECTS Robert W. Hayes of Sausalito and Barry G. Smith of Mill Valley, who have their office in San Francisco, have been named by Hayman Homes, Inc., as planners and architects in association with James O. Brummett for an 8.5-acre development in San Francisco's Diamond Heights. Hayes and Smith have already won two national design awards for previous work in Diamond Heights.

JARO STEPHAN of San Rafael will be designer in charge of laying out new executive offices for Hiram Walker, Inc., on the 28th floor of the Hartford Building, San Francisco. Walker will move from the present Geary Street location next month. Stephan is associated with Design-Planning, Inc., who was appointed to handle designing of the suite.

Dell'Era

JORDAN B. DELL'ERA of Peacock Gap, a vice president at Crocker-Citizens National Bank's administrative headquarters in San Francisco, has been made officer in charge of a newly created branch administration for the bank's northern division. Dell'Era joined Crocker-Citizens' predecessor in San Rafael, the First National Bank, in 1946. He was transferred to the city in 1961 and placed in charge of central transit clearing operations. For the past year he has headed operations for Northern California branches.

SEVERAL CLASSES in real estate are being offered during the fall semester beginning next month at College of Marin, according to the Marin County Real Estate Board. Subjects covered will be real estate principles, practice, legal aspects, finance and appraising. Registration forms may be secured from the Dean of Students Office. Mail registration must bear a postmark no later than Aug. 31. Registration in person will be limited to two days — Sept. 7 and 8, in Olney Hall — 7 to 8:30 p.m.

ATTENDING SOME OF THOSE CLASSES may become necessary for those not long in the business. One-year original real estate salesman's licenses will be eliminated under a new state law.

Personnel now associated with real estate firms who wish a second successive original license must apply at least two weeks before the present license expires—and before the end of this year.

No application for a second original license can be accepted if the first one expires later than the end of 1965. Those with later expirations will need to apply for the four-year license examination—in November for January, 1966 expirations, and in December for February runouts.

There are 237.5 million radio and TV sets in the United States, nearly half of all the sets in the world.

Marichal Starts Sitting Out Suspension

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An apologetic Juan Marichal, ace of the San Francisco Giants' pitching staff, is out of action until Sept. 1 and out of pocket $1,750 for hitting Los Angeles catcher John Roseboro over the head with a bat.

And the Giants might be out of a pennant.

The fine — highest ever levied by either major league — and nine-day suspension were announced yesterday.

National League President Warren Giles called Marichal's action in Sunday's game at San Francisco "unprovoked," "obnoxious" and "repugnant."

"It was the toughest decision I've had to make in the 14 years I've been league president, because the pennant is at stake," Giles said.

Marichal said in the dressing room before the Giants' 6-2 loss to Pittsburgh last night, "I'm sorry I hit him with the bat and I want to apologize for that."

Giant Manager Herman Franks said he thought the league's action against his 19-game winner "was a little too quick."

Before the suspension was announced, Franks had said the loss of Marichal for any period "would murder the club" in its fight for the pennant. Marichal will miss at least two turns and his loss will disrupt the Giants' pitching rotation.

In telling his side of the story for the first time, Marichal said:

"The second pitch (from Sandy Koufax) was in tight. Roseboro dropped it on purpose so he could get close to me. He threw it back to the pitcher faster than I've ever seen a catcher throw it back. His throw nicked me on the ear.

"I turned around and looked down at him and asked, 'why did you do that?'

"He took his mask off, held it in his hand and started toward me.

"I thought he was going to get me. I didn't want to get hit with the mask and that's when I hit him with the bat."

Earlier, Roseboro, who suffered a two-inch cut on the top of his scalp, said "I don't care what they do to him. I don't have any feelings about it at all. As far as I'm concerned it's all over and done with."

As to whether he threw the pitch close to Marichal's head intentionally, Roseboro said:

"That could be. It might have come close to him. But I didn't think it did. Actually, I took one step toward him and then he hit me with the bat."

Roseboro set out last night's series opener against the New York Mets.

Giles, who was in New York, instructed his office in Cincinnati to send the following telegram to Marichal:

"I am sure you recognize how repugnant your actions were in the game at San Francisco Aug. 22. Such actions are harmful to the game, have no place in sports and must be dealt with drastically. For your actions you are suspended for eight scheduled dates, Aug. 23 through Aug. 31, and fined the sum of $1,750, payable by you and not your club prior to game time Sept. 1.

"If advanced by the club, it is to be deducted from your salary.

"My investigation indicated there were underlying currents by others throughout the series but your sudden and violent action Sunday was unprovoked and obnoxious and must be penalized."

The phrase "underlying currents by others" was not explained by Giles.

Giles' decision was made after reading a report of the incident by Shag Crawford, the plate umpire who finally separated Marichal and Roseboro by wrestling Marichal to the ground.

Franks said Marichal wants to talk with Giles and the two game officials, Crawford and Doug Harvey, to give his version of the story.

REGRETS—Juan Marichal was subdued and remorseful yesterday after National League President Warren Giles suspended and fined him for clubbing Dodger catcher John Roseboro on the head Sunday with a bat. (UPI Telephoto)

Sonny Werblin: Mr. Show Biz Of AFL

Six months ago, if you asked me who or what "Sonny Werblin" was, I'd have had to cop out and say "How many guesses do I get, and is he self-employed and does what he do have anything to do with animals?" I'd have had to give up and yield to Dorothy Kilgallen. I didn't know Sonny Werblin from Sonny Liston.

Not now. Now, Sonny's so to speak, my boy. Sonny's side's up. Sonny is bright. Sonny shines. So, climb upon my knee and I'll tell you about Sonny, boy.

Sonny — his real handle is "David"—is one of the few guys in it who knows sport for what it is—show business in shoulder pads, a carnival in cleats. It's "Look, everybody, the headless lady!" A sideshow with scorekeepers. It's illusion with sidelines, "The Greatest Show on Earth," matinees on Saturday.

NOT LONG ago, Sonny was what the trade calls a "flesh-peddler," a talent agent and lower form of show biz life that gets its name in Weekly Variety, smokes cigars and gulps pills. He gets 10% of the talent; so he tries to get the talent 100% of the project. Sonny was in the Music Corporation of America, once identified as a "Star-Spangled Octopus," and he was one of the biggest tentacles.

A long time ago, Shakespeare wrote "The play's the thing" but a man named Louis B. Mayer knew he was wrong. In Hollywood, the player was the thing. L. B. developed what came to be known as "the star system." This consisted of taking a patent-leather-haired bus boy and turning him into every American girl's idea of a desert sheik, of finding an oil wiper on a freighter and turning him into everyman's idea of rugged, romantic charm, of taking a sawdust-headed blonde with just enough acting ability to scream on cue and making her America's love goddess. "Garbo Talks!" screamed the marquees and Greta Louise Gustafson, a big-footed recluse from Stockholm became a bigger world mystery than footprints on the slopes of Mt. Everest.

SONNY WERBLIN got the message. He took a candelabrum, a sequined suit and a smile to match and turned Liberace and a tinkling glissando into a million dollars and a laugh all the way to the bank. You name it, Sonny handled it. From Ozzie and Harriet to Oz and Wizard, Guy Lombardo to Guys 'n' Dolls.

Then, there was an AFL football franchise called "The New York Titans" (those on its payroll referred to it as "The New York Tightwads") and a funny thing happened to it on the way to the poorhouse. Sonny Werblin bought it.

The American Football League at that time was kind of the rich playtoy of a lot of second-generation rich playboys. Its games were played in such privacy that, one night in the Polo Grounds when the lights didn't work, someone yelled "Turn on the lights!" and someone else answered "Why?" Bob Curran, who wrote a book about it ("The $400,000 Quarterback, or, The League That Came In From The Cold") reported that when a sign went up, "Follow The Oakland Raiders," a passerby wrote "Who are the Oakland Raiders? And where are they going?"

THE ANSWER was into receivership. Until Sonny Werblin. One afternoon last winter, doubtless with a low bow to the shade of L.B. Mayer, Sonny Werblin peeled six hundred thousand dollars out of his bank balance to pay off a pair of college quarterbacks, one with a limp, the other with a sidearm delivery that the wise guys said would result in the first guy in history to get his passes intercepted by knees.

Joe Namath and John Huarte became New York Jets instead of St. Louis Cardinals or Washington Redskins. They became AFL instead of NFL. Sonny Werblin cornered the market in quarterbacks. He got $11 million worth of publicity for his $600,000 investment, he turned a joke into a league, a foundling franchise into a multi-million dollar corporation, his ticket windows from cobwebs into "Now, wait a minute, stay in line there!"

"NAMATH SIGNS!" became the athletic version of "Garbo Talks." You put Gable and Tracy in the same picture and quadruple the gross? Okay, Sonny puts Namath and Huarte in the same backfield and sells 35,000 season tickets. That's show-biz, baby.

Sonny was not without his critics. "If Joe Namath's worth $400,000, I'm worth a million," Frank Ryan announced from Cleveland.

But Sonny Werblin knows what everybody in the NFL and AFL—and MCA—knows: there is only one player in the NFL worth one million dollars. Jim Brown. Star stuff is magical. It builds up either because you ARE one-of-a-kind, or because the public has been built up to think you are.

JOE NAMATH, untried, is worth more at the box office than a Frank Ryan who has been kicking around for awhile. A million guys can play the piano but they haven't got as many teeth as Liberace.

Presumably, Joe Namath won't call his plays by candelabra. And while Sonny is breaking out the 24-sheets, "Namath Plays!" one thing must be bothering him: should he get a stunt man for those tough third-and-one situations? That's one thing L. B. never had to face. His star system couldn't be wrecked by clothesline tackle, his leading men reduced from being stars to seeing them.

3-Run Homer Tops Softball Action

Arnie Marks hit a three-run homer to give the Paradise Cove Yacht Club a 3-2 win yesterday over the Harding Associate Gophers in the San Rafael Recreation Dept.'s 16-inch slow-pitch softball league. Cain's Tires beat Dill and Sederberg 6-3 in Class C action.

Tiburon Swim Team Triumphs

Swimmers for the Tiburon Peninsula Club garnered 206 points of the Terra Linda Swim Team to win a dual meet Saturday in Tiburon.

The Tiburon team is undefeated in the Marin Swim League.

Linda Locati, undefeated in Marin meets, won three first places in the free, back and fly strokes and Laurie James also won free, breast and fly stroke first places in her age group for the Tiburon club.

Pool records were set by Mary Keller and Linda Locati. Kim Fox, Laura Jernigan, Celia de Martini set pool records in the breast stroke for their age groups.

Marin Grid Stars Ready

Big Crowd Expected For Thursday's All-Star Tilt

After drilling their players through a tough scrimmage Saturday, North and South Marin All-Star coaches are tapering off the contact work before the talent-laden teams meet Thursday night at College of Marin.

Bob Troppmann, game managing director and Marin County's answer to Bill Veeck, was pleased to announce that both teams have come through their practice sessions without major injuries and all players are apparently ready to go.

Both teams figure to display a dangerous passing offense. The North hopes ride on the right arm of All-Marin Athletic League quarterback Gary Lieberman of Terra Linda, who will be throwing to his favorite receivers on the Trojan varsity, and Bill Hall and halfbacks Tim Garvin and Rick Edwards. Garvin was No. 2 receiver in the league on the basis of yards gained. Ron Tieche, Novato end, is also a capable pass-catcher for the North.

The South has three good reasons why the North defensive backfield may have a frustrating evening. They are ends Larry Stein from Drake (the league's top receiver), Ron Pederson from Tamalpais and Bill Kilcoyne from Redwood. Stein is faster than the other two, but they are all big and that should be an important advantage over the small North secondary.

They will be catching the slings of Marin Catholic's quarterbacking wizard, Bill Shine, and the signal-caller of Drake's two-time champions, Al Simontacchi.

With both clubs possessed of potent passing weapons, the difference could well be the South's 225-pound fullback from Drake, Joe DeMasi. The North must rely on speed and finesse, but if the South finds its air game stalled it can turn to DeMasi to keep the North defense honest.

Not only can the big guy provide running power, but he also will be an important part of the South's protective shield around its passer. Simontacchi, of course, prospered behind the sturdy protection of the Drake forward wall; it should be interesting to see how Shine fares after running for his life all season last year from defensemen pouring through the Marin Catholic line.

Troppmann announced this morning that a post-game banquet open to the public will be held at the Corte Madera Recreation Center. Marty Hanzlik, director of the San Rafael YMCA, is in charge of the affair, tickets for which are $2.50.

Tropp also specified four more ticket locations where ducats may be obtained in advance of the game. Three are in Novato: Jim's Sport Shop, Crocker-Citizens Bank and McAskill's Men's Wear store. Schafer's Ice Cream shop is selling them in San Anselmo.

A ticket booth at College of Marin field will be open from 1 p.m. Thursday through game time at 8 p.m. Troppmann urged those who plan to attend to arrive early because a large crowd is expected and parking may be a problem as the new college parking lots are not yet available.

One addition to the scene will be available, however. That is the college's new scoreboard, which will be used Thursday for the first time in a game. The two all-star teams have enough offensive punch to give it quite a workout.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Braves Nip Reds To Move Into 2nd

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

There's nothing like a hot pennant chase to bring people to the old ball game, even if it's in Milwaukee County Stadium.

For most of the season the Braves have been playing in front of close friends and relatives, with the attendance dipping to 913 for a game with the Houston Astros. The gentle folk of the city that made beer famous had been staying away from the park in retaliation for the Braves' scheduled move next season to Atlanta.

On Aug. 8, though, 20,882 came out to a double header which the Braves swept, touching off a streak of 11 victories in 15 games despite the rigors of an extended road trip.

The Braves returned to County Stadium last night and counted 12,565 cheering Milwaukeeans in the seats. They proceeded to edge the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 and move into second place, two percentage points behind the Dodgers.

Los Angeles maintained its precarious perch atop the National League with an 8-4 error-filled victory over everybody's cousin, the New York Mets. In the only other senior circuit action, San Francisco tumbled from second to third place, one and one - half games behind the Dodgers, by dropping a 6-2 contest to the Pirates and St. Louis pounded Chicago 10-2.

The Braves had to win it the hard way, having staked Ken Johnson to a 7-1 lead which seemed secure until the seventh inning when the Reds scored five runs. Cincinnati threatened to go ahead against reliever Billy O'Dell but left the bases loaded. O'Dell settled down and set the rest of the Reds down in order to preserve Johnson's 14th victory.

The Reds took the lead on Tom first. The Braves came back with single runs in the second, third and fourth and won the contest with four in the fifth, highlighted by Gene Oliver's 17th homer.

The Dodgers scord five runs in the fifth inning against the Mets, who established a major league record by dropping their 426th game in four consecutive seasons, eclipsing by one the standard reached by the 1938-41 Philadelphia Phillies. Don Drysdale was the winner, although Bob Miller was needed to preserve his 17th victory.

Although each team made four errors, all 12 runs were earned. Ron Fairly hit his ninth homer with two mates aboard in the fifth for the Dodgers and had a run - producing single in the eighth to wind up with four runs batted in.

The Cardinals unleashed a 13-hit attack that included four doubles and two triples in their rout of the Cubs. Curt Simmons won his ninth game against 11 defeats. The decisive runs were scored in the fourth inning on a double by Lou Brock, triples by Bill White and Tim McCarver and a single by Curt Flood.

CAPSULE COMMENTS ON . . .

Juan Marichal's Penalty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Capsule comments after San Francisco's Juan Marichal had been fined $1,750 and suspended for nine playing days for hitting Los Angeles catcher John Roseboro over the head with a bat:

National League President Warren Giles, who levied the fine and suspension: "It was the toughest decision I've had to make in the 14 years I've been league president."

Marichal: "I'm sorry I hit him with the bat and I want to apologize for that."

Roseboro: "I don't care what they do to him (Marichal). I have no feelings about it. It's all over and done with."

Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston: "I wouldn't want to say what I really think about it."

Ron Fairly, Los Angeles Dodger first baseman: "He (Marichal) should be kicked out of baseball. Using a bat is the same as going out with intent to kill. If I'd done something like that on the street, I'd have been arrested. He should be arrested, too."

Cincinnati Reds Manager Dick Sisler: "The number of days he was suspended is awfully light according to the action that Marichal took. I thought he would get more. You can push an umpire and get that much."

Milwaukee Braves Manager Bobby Bragan: "Marichal was very fortunate, but I wasn't a bit surprised. Out for the year would have surprised me, but I think it would have been justified."

Champagne Tony In Carling Golf Victory

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Champagne Tony Lema gave himself a little lecture as he stood on the 16th green. Today he valued the speech at $35,000 for it helped him capture first prize in the $200,800 Carling World Golf Championship.

Lema withstood a patented charge by Arnold Palmer yesterday to win the richest golf tournament, fashioning a 34-36—70 over the par 36-35—71 Pleasant Valley Country Club course.

Palmer, who had tied Lema as late as the 69th hole, blew the lead himself with bogeys on the 16th and 17th greens to wind up with a 34-35—69 and a second place total of 281.

Joe Campbell holed a 12-foot birdie putt on the 18th green taking third place with a 282, slipping past 53-year-old Sam Snead and U.S. Open champ Gary Player who had 283 totals.

PGA champion Dave Marr was a stroke further back with Homero Blancas, the third round co-leader with Lema. Blancas, bothered by a bad back, ballooned to a 39-36—75.

Lema indicatedhewas feeling the pressure of Palmer's charge.

"I was loose enough 'till I hit the greens," he said, "Then I could feel the pressure."

He said he was concerned until he heard that Palmer, playing in a threesome just ahead of him, had bogied the 17th hole.

"I told myself then, 'you're a fool if you blow it now.'"

Playing it cautiously, Lema used two putts to get down from 25 feet and register a par on the 183-yard hole. He got a lucky break on the next hole when his small shot was too long, but hit the gallery and bounced back on the green about 30 feet from the cup.

Palmer blamed a couple of bad long iron shots early in the round for his undoing.

"Perhaps they took too much out of me, weakening me for later," he said. "But I believe they cost me a position to win."

He said the bogey on the 16th probably was the turning point "but I didn't think it was over until the next hole. The 17th killed me."

Palmer said he was in a real mood to play good golf "and I played pretty well most of the day, I felt charged all day," he said.

The victory raised Lema's 1965 earnings to $98,016. Palmer earned $17,600 for second place, giving golf's all-time top winner $44,712 this year.

Pre tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus shot his best round on the final day, a 70, but he finished in an eight-way tie for 38th place at 291. He earned $945, leaving him with $786 to go to break Palmer's 1963 record earnings of $128,230.

Track Power Investigation Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The current temporary truce in the bitter fight for power over U.S. track and field affairs all but collapsed today but quickly got new life again.

The collapse and revival marked a hearing before the Senate Commerce Committee as Earl H. (Red) Blaik proposed a plan for permanent peace.

Blaik, No. 2 man to the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the truce which restored peace for the duration of the 1964 Olympic Games, roundly criticized both sides, the Amateur Athletic Union and National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The seeming collapse of the current truce, which had been arranged by the committee's chairman, Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., at the outset of the hearings on Aug. 16, came as AAU President Clifford H. Buck of Denver took the witness stand to testify.

Buck first parried questions when asked by Magnuson to confirm the AAU did accept the truce and its pledge of at least temporary amnesty for athletes threatened with suspension for defying boycotts the rival groups have declared against each other's meets.

Finally, however, Buck said he accepted the truce subject to approval by the AAU's executive board.

Giants Hope To Rebound Tonight

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The San Francisco Giants meet Pittsburgh again tonight with either Gaylord Perry (8-11) or Bob Shaw (14-6) taking the mound against the Pirates' Bob Friend (6-10).

The Giants dropped the opening game of their four-game series against Pittsburgh last night 6-2, putting them behind 7-5 against the Pirates this season.

San Francisco is now a full game out of the first place slot held by Los Angeles and a half-game behind second-place Milwaukee.

Pittsburgh is in sixth place behind Cincinnati and Philadelphia.

Yesterday's loss to the Pirates put an end to Willie Mays' string of home runs in consecutive games only two games short of the major league record of eight.

Dale Long holds the record. Mays had homered in six consecutive ball games going into the contest.

Mays' stellar fielding held up, however, as he turned in a double play on a fly ball hit by Don Clendenon, nailing Roberto Clemente at the plate as Clemente tried to score from third.

The Giants got one run in the first inning, but the Pirates tied it up in their half of the first.

The Giants got another run in the fourth on singles by Jim Hart and Len Gabrielson and a sacrifice fly by Tom Haller.

The Pirates tied it again in the fifth and then unleashed a four-run barrage at veteran Warren Spahn in the seventh to put them ahead to stay.

Law got the win, his 15th against nine losses. Spahn took the loss, bringing his record to 5-15.

Gridders Needed In Mill Valley

Pop Warner football is in trouble in Mill Valley if more boys don't show up to play. Only 25 boys have come out for practice so far, not nearly enough to field a team in the competitive Marin league.

Coach Herb Smith will welcome any boys who meet Warner limitations and live in the area served by Tamalpais High School to practices, which are being held Monday through Friday at 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. at Boyle Park, Mill Valley, behind the tennis courts on E. Blithedale Avenue.

The age rule states that boys 10-14 are eligible if they are not yet in high school. A youngster must not be 14 before June 1, 1965, and must weight 123 pounds or less.

WESTERN CHAMPS — Paul Gonzales (right), who pitched South Mountain, Ariz., past Novato last Friday in the Western Regional Little League baseball playoffs at Portland, teamed with catcher Frank Angulo to face Waco, Tex., today as the Little League World Series opened at Williamsport, Pa. Gonzales hurled nine scoreless innings in a sizzling duel with Novato's Steve Tieche before South Mountain broke through for three runs against Tieche's reliever Randy Foster in the 10th to win. Kralick Turns Cheek, Still Loses

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jack Kralick has a lot of cheek.

Once on the mound, however, Kralick came apart at the seams.

Before three innings were over, Kralick was gone, charged with six hits, six runs, a wild pitch and a throwing error as the Angels romped to an 8-2 victory.

Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts classified the Kralick-Bell fisticuffs — which took place Sunday night — as "a little quick temper thing. It was just one of those things that happen in August, when tempers are short and the pressure is heaviest."

Tebbetts went on to compare the fight with San Francisco pitcher Juan Marichal hitting Los Angeles catcher John Roseboro over the head with a bat in a game at San Francisco Sunday.

But where Roseboro suffered a two-inch gash on his head, Kralick lost a tooth and required nine stitches from a plastic surgeon to repair the damage.

The incident took place in a Washington hotel room Sunday after the two pitchers, who are roommates, returned from dinner. Both admitted they were joking around and kidding each other. Then, said Bell:

"One word was said and bam — Jack jumped up and swung. So I swung, too."

Tebbetts said there would be no fines unless the two pitchers were unable to work when he called on them. If they were unable to pitch he said he would dock them a day's pay until they could.

Then he went ahead with his plans to start Kralick against the Angels.

Kralick accepted the challenge.

"I can't afford not to," he said.

So he's one day richer and one loss poorer.

Meanwhile, the Minnesota Twins stretched their American League lead to 7½ games by edging the New York Yankees 4-3 in 10 innings while Baltimore nipped second-place Chicago 2-1 in 12 innings and ended the White Sox' 10-game winning streak.

Kansas City defeated Detroit 4-3 in the only other AL game scheduled.

Kralick had considerable difficulty against the Angels. Of the six hits he allowed, one was a bunt single, another a topped roller in front of the plate and still another a shot off his glove. When he added to his growing list of negative achievements with a throwing error, Tebbetts yanked him.

Jimmy Piersall did enough damage to win it for the Angels, driving in three runs with two doubles and a single in support of rookie Marcelino Lopez, who won his 14th.

The Twins, trailing 3-2 after Clete Boyer's two-run homer in the seventh, tied the score in the ninth on a single by Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva's double. Then they won it in the 10th against reliever Jim Bouton on two walks and a single by Jerry Kindall.

The Orioles and White Sox were locked in a duel until the 12th when Brooks Robinson drew a walk off Hoyt Wilhelm and scored on Curt Blefary's triple. Baltimore starter Steve Barber left for a pinch hitter in the ninth after allowing just four hits and Chicago starter Juan Pizarro left in the 11th after surrendering only seven hits.

Ken Harrelson's solo homer in the sixth inning brought the A's their victory. The A's scored three runs in the first two innings but the Tigers came back to tie the score in the third on a three-run homer by Gates Brown.

Rush Wins By KO Over Tod Herring

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Elmer Rush gained personal revenge, satisfaction and added prestige by knocking out Texan Tod Herring, but the loser of last night's bout carried home the cash.

A knockout by Herring last January was the only defeat on the pro record of Rush, a San Francisco dock worker ranked the No. 9 challenger for the title by the World Boxing Association.

So he wanted Herring and took him via a fourth round knockout at the Civic Auditorium. However, only 1,448 paid to see the rematch with a net gate of $4,151. Herring was guaranteed $3,000 plus $750 expenses.

Terms of the contract called for Rush to receive 50 per cent of the gate and pay the $3,000 guarantee out of that, and 50 per cent did not reach $3,000. Matchmaker Benny Ford said the promoting club would make up the difference and "We'll see that Rush gets something."

Rush, 216½, staggered the 209-pound Herring in the first round and outpunched his foe from Houston the rest of the way. A left hook in the fourth put Herring off balance and nearly on the seat of his pants.

A right and left then sent Herring down for a nine count. He assured Referee Vern Bybee he could continue but with another barrage from Rush, Bybee called a halt at 1:12. Under California rules it was recorded as a knockout.

Li'l League World Series To Get Underway Today

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Observers were hard put to predict a winner in the Little League World Series that starts today but it wasn't hard to visualize the tough time ahead for the Japanese team.

The Tokyo entry arrived with only 10 players, four shy of a full roster. A spokesman said four boys became ill just before departure from Japan and no replacements were available.

All eight teams arrived yesterday and went through light workouts at Lamade Memorial Field, the site of all games.

The series opens at 1 p.m. EST with Maracaibe, Venezuela, playing Windsor Locks, Conn. The second game of today's preliminary round at 4 p.m. pits Waco, Tex., against Phoenix, Ariz. (Phoenix eliminated Novato at the West Coast Regiansl last week).

The Wednesday schedule, with the same starting times, has Tokyo playing Jeffersonville, Ind., and Rota, Spain, going against Stoney Creek, Ontario, Canada.

Semifinal games are scheduled Thursday at 12:30 and 3 p.m. EST., with Friday an open date. Saturday's schedule calls for the consolation game between semifinal losers at 9 a.m. and the championship contest at 1 p.m.

Another New Gadget Hits The Hunters' Market: Tree Steps

STEVENS

What will they think up next? Every so often word reaches an outdoor writer of a new gadget that is a sure-fire killer for fish or in the hunting of game. Many of these gadgets are worthless and not worth mentioning in a column, but, on a few occasions a good gadget that promises to enhance the sport of hunting or fishing reaches his desk. Such a goody came in my mail on Saturday. I am convinced it has real merit, hence the following.

Arivid H. Bergstren of Anoka, Minn., has invented an item called the Deer Me Tree Steps. These tree steps are compact and easily carried. They screw into any tree "in a matter of seconds." According to the folder accompanying the letter — "The Deer Me Tree Steps allow the hunter to climb any tree in the woods thus allowing the hunter a much greater area of vision above the scent line and out of sight of the deer.

"AFTER THE deer is dressed, two steps can be used to hang the deer up off the ground," reads the pamphlet. Also, the steps have a great safety factor. The hunter sitting in a tree is not liable to be mistaken for a buck by some trigger-happy tyro.

The steps come in sets of four ($8.95), sets of six ($11.95) or a set of eight ($14.95).

If you are interested in getting one of the sets—for bird-watching, hunting, bow or rifle hunters of big game, or for your children's tree house — contact Arivid H. Bergstren, Box 345, Anoka, Minn. 55303.

NOW FOR a brief, but important, look-see at the piscatorial picture. After a blank day or two, the salmon searchers seem to have located a nice school of fish in the Steamer Lane. My Halicrafter has tipped me off by listening to the skippers talking. At least one boat had 14 fish in the locker at around 10 a.m. Sunday. The action has been in the Steamer Lane, and, while many of the fish are running somewhat lighter than last weekend, a couple real lunkers to 40 pounds and more have been boated.

The fishing prospects for the next few days are fairly bright. There has been some wild and wooly action with stripers in the upper San Pablo spots and off Dillon's Point above the Carquinez Bridge. Oddly, many of the bass caught have been had by anglers fishing for sturgeon with grass shrimps. Charlie Schultz of Dowrelio's Harbor at Crockett reported Skipper Savage of the Dowrelio No. 5 taking eight limits on Saturday. Fish are running to 16 pounds. Charlie himself has taken easy limits on his small boat several times the past week. Johnny Sivera and the Lucky Days No. 3 accounted for three sturgeons to 49 inches, and five striped bass to 16 pounds.

FROM LEE Anderson's bait and tackle shop in Oakland, the boat Wilma H averaged better than two salmon per rod on Saturday. Fish ran from 13 to 33 pounds. The Millie Len netted 70 rockfish and six lings, while the boat Skunk Hollow landed four halibut from 12 to 18 pounds.

The South Tower of the G. G. Bridge is still yielding some stripers on the outgoing tide (mostly sinker-bumping method).

A MISS WORTH 3,000 MILES

That's approximately how far it is to Williamsport, Pa., where the Novato Little League All-Stars probably would have gone for the Little League World Series if Mark Greving had scored this run in the third inning Friday night against South Mountain, Ariz., in the Western Regional playoffs at Portland. Novato supporters disputed the umpire's decision that Mark was out, but the photo demonstrates quite clearly that it was the right one. South Mountain broke a scoreless tie with three runs in the 10th inning (fourth extra frame) and won 3-0, and then beat Klamath Falls, Ore., the next night for the Western title. Standing, with bat in hand is Novato's Jack Burnam. (AP Wirephoto)

Steve Miller Wins His Fourth Game

Steve Miller of San Anselmo last week won his fourth game against nine losses this summer for Cocoa Beach, Fla., a Houston farm club in the Class-A Florida State League. He hurled 12 innings in two appearances, giving up eight hits and four walks while striking out four. In 108 innings this season he has allowed only 75 hits, but 86 walks have limited his effectiveness.

Ron Cole of Mill Valley, once unbeaten with five wins at Houston's Durham, N.C., team in the Carolina League, lost his second straight last week. He appeared once and gave up two hits and three walks in three innings. He has allowed 43 hits and walked 21 while fanning 30 in 47 innings.

John Boccabella of San Anselmo, first baseman with the Cubs' Fort Worth team in the Texas League, had a miserable week with only three singles in 21 at bats. He drove in one run and scored one. His average dipped four points to .229. He has 16 home runs and 77 RBI in 455 at bats this season.

San Rafael Firemen Win

The San Rafael Fire Dept. nipped San Anselmo 12-11 Sunday in the Larkspur Slow-Pitch Softball Tourney for Marin County fire departments to eliminate the San Anselmans and move to a semi-final clash against Kentfield at 6:30 p.m. today at Wagner Field, Larkspur.

Kentfield lost its first game Friday night, a 13-7 decision to unbeaten Larkspur. Tonight's winner will face Larkspur at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. If Larkspur firemen win, the title is theirs; if they lose, another game will have to be played.

Marin County's Deer Kill Down

The deer kill was down in Marin from last year for the first 13 days of the season, the State Dept. of Fish and Game reported. Although the kill by archery was six compared to five last year, the total was just 168, a sizable drop from the 194 bagged at this point last season. The statewide total was down 101 to 7,695.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Fancy Parties To End Summer

By MOLLY MARIN

Taking advantage of the last crazy days of summer, Belvedere Lagoon residents are hosting some fancy gatherings. Sunday, the Alfred Kriegers invited 70 guests from San Francisco and Marin to a cocktail buffet. Guests danced on the deck to the music of a San Rafael combo, Dave Harris and his group. Michael and Richard Krieger assisted their parents with hospitality. Attending the affair were Mrs. Krieger's mother, Mrs. A. R. Snyder and her aunt, Mrs. Myer Simon. Both women are visiting from Los Angeles. On the calendar for Sept. 11 is the "Moonlight and Magnolia Blossom Cruise" which the Russ Schneiders host annually for the Rebel and Sun Boat Fleets on the Lagoon.

MRS. J. DEAN IRONS of San Rafael has just returned from the National Leadership Conference of Phi Mu sorority at the University of Georgia in Athens, Ga. Mrs. Irons is a member-at-large on the National Council of Phi Mu. She presented a program on current campus trends at one of the sessions designed for training national and district officers of the national sorority, for their work with Phi Mu's 180 alumnae clubs and 90 collegiate chapters across the nation. A new resident of San Rafael, Mrs. Irons recently moved here from Tulsa, Okla. Her husband is an engineer with the Bechtel Corp.

THE ROBERT DAVIES of Belvedere are vacationing at Jackson Hole, Wyo. En route Bob Davies, who is a car buff, couldn't resist stopping off at Bonneville Salt Flats to see the auto races. The Davies' 1934 Rolls Royce will be on display at the Concours D'Elegance at Peacock Gap.

MRS. JOHN E. FURCHAK of San Rafael, the former Babette Sarnsen of Mill Valley, who was married on Aug. 14, will be honored at a miscellaneous shower to be given Friday by her aunt, Mrs. Gerald Reposa, at her home in San Francisco. Just before her marriage the bride was feted at a miscellaneous shower given at the Mill Valley home of Nancy Pompei. Guests were their classmates at Tamalpais High School.

A LUNCHEON and shower in the garden of the Woodburn Estate in Danneville honored bride-elect Sherry Peterson of Tiburon. Co-hostesses with Mrs. R. A. Woodburn were Mrs. Leland Pollard and Mrs. Stuart Stephens. Sherry will become the bride of Robert J. Minton of Alameda at wedding rites at St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon on Saturday. Sherry's roommates at the University of California, Penny Baum, formerly of Belvedere, and Barbara Pierce entertained at a shower at their apartment in Berkeley. Parents of the future bride, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Peterson will host the rehearsal dinner Friday night at the San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere.

Robert A. Walling Of Tiburon Claims Sherille Smith As Bride

The Saturday wedding of Sherille Smith of Los Altos and Robert Alan Walling of Tiburon was performed by the Rev. David A. Crump at Trinity Episcopal Church in San Jose.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McNamara of Los Altos, wore a full length gown of white organza over taffeta for the double ring ceremony. She was escorted to the altar by her father.

Acting as best man was Philip Burke of Tiburon with Jerry Clarke of San Jose and Bill Rude and Ray Jackson of Tiburon ushering.

A reception at Villa Montaloo in Saratoga followed.

Shay, as the bride is called, was graduated from San Jose State College and is a school teacher in San Rafael. Queen Finds Little Time For Vacation

LONDON (UPI)—Sometimes even royalty finds it hard to get away from it all.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II finds such is the case for her this summer—a busy schedule has cut several weeks off the family holiday.

SHE AND HER husband, Prince Philip, left later than usual for their summer home of Balmoral Castle in the Scottish Highlands and they'll return earlier.

The queen, who usually does not return to London until the first week of October, has a number of official duties waiting for her in mid-September.

Among them is the unveiling of a stone honoring Sir Winston Churchill in Westminster Abbey Sept. 19. This is at the annual "Battle of Britain" remembrance service. She has also to make arrangements for Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan's 10-day visit to Britain in October.

THE QUEEN will complete her various foreign tour arrangements for 1966 while she is in Scotland. These have to be settled months in advance so that the neccessary arrangements can be made in the places she visits.

A five-week tour of the Caribbean in February and March and a state visit to Belgium in May have been officially announced. It is known other visits are also being considered.

ONE IS A possible tour of some Latin American countries. The queen told Chilean President Eduardo Frei during his recent state visit here that she would be delighted to accept his invitation to visit Chile but at the time she could set no definite date.

It is known that Argentina would also welcome the queen while Prince Philip's enthusiasm for the polo there would make the prospect of another visit a pleasure to him.

Celebrations in connection with the 100th anniversary of the merger of British Columbia and Vancouver Island take place in Canada next year.

VALUABLE 'JUNK'

Club Salvage Shop A Success

The Salvage Shop of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Women's Club began as a series of rummage sales 20 years ago. Today the shop at 45 Lovell Ave., Mill Valley, is a major contributor to the building fund for the new church.

A small fortune has been earned from the book room, where the church's library started. A collection of Roaring 20s dresses and furs inspired a costume-rental room. Children's furniture, picture frames, toys and used clothing are best sellers. Antiques, bedsteads, brass lamps, mirrors, bicycles and major appliances fill the shop.

Homemade bakery goods are brought there by the women's club.

Wood paneling, solid oak doors, flooring, sinks, cupboards and brass drawer pulls were sold from houses torn down on Oakdale Avenue to make room for the new church.

"We are in this world to help one another," said manager Mrs. Frances Ferrario, describing charity work done by the Salvage Shop. A family, victims of Mendocino County's flood, was clothed and settled in a home and jobs in Tiburon through the shop's efforts.

SIX BOXES of good clothing go monthly to Napa and Sonoma State hospitals, transported by the Red Cross. Clothes needing mending go to the Salvation Army for repair and distribution. Much warm clothing is contributed to the Bishop's Relief Fund. Some foreign-born residents buy inexpensive, servicable clothes to send relatives abroad.

"ONE MAN'S trash is another man's treasure," smiles Mrs. Ferrario. "Fifteen years ago I was green and didn't know the value of things. I sold books for practically nothing." A first edition of Joseph Conrad slipped through the shop's fingers for 35 cents. Later it resold for $75."

SHE SOON recruited Mrs. Edward Boughton, wife of a retired sea captain and world traveler and art collector, to price books, antiques and art objects. Mrs. Ferrario was astonished when an orange carnival-glass bowl brought $20.

Other Mill Valley experts like jeweler M. J. McDonald donate their time and experience to evaluate some of the surprises found in boxes of "junk." Diamond rings, crystal beads, valuable antique clocks and an authentic whale-oil lamp have been found in gift trunks of old clothes.

Mrs. Ferrario's knack with knick-knacks has multiplied Salvage Shop earnings 10 times since she became manager 15 years ago. Mesdames Marvin Field, Ivan Hayes, Harry Ziegler are also employees.

VOLUNTEER SALESWOMEN and pickup men staff the shop. Women's club volunteers wash and iron donated clothing. Mrs. Michael Jackowski, Miss Flora Bartel and Miss Rose Ferrario price and size clothing. Eberhart Service Station has donated trucks and gas for picking up furniture and major appliances. Gene Addelman and Dale Tupper have picked up heavy items for the shop.

THE ORIGINAL rummage sales of 20 years ago were held in a parishioner's building on Madrona Avenue and then on Montford Avenue. In 1951, the Salvage Shop moved to the low white building at 45 Lovell, now owned by the Women's Club. Fifty years ago this building was a blacksmith's shop and later Russell and Gooch Mortuary.

TRYING ON kimonas, muu-muus and a wedding dress in the costume-rental room of the Salvage Shop are, from left, Mrs. B. Connell Jr., Mrs. John Hokanson, Kathleen Balmes and Mrs. Marvin Field. The shop is a major contributor to the building fund for the new church.

New chemically treated small utility rugs trap dirt at the door by cleaning shoe soles of mud, sand, or moisture, the manufacturer reports. These black-and-white tweed rugs come with spray cans of the same magnetized finish so the treatment can be renewed after the rugs are washed in hot soap or detergent suds.

Congress Threatens State Jobless Benefit Program

An Administration measure, now being rushed through Congress, threatens California's control over its own unemployment insurance program.

The bill, H.R. 8282, would force all states to meet federal benefit standards set by it after July 1, 1967. California employers would have their federal tax for unemployment insurance jumped 37 per cent next July and 86 per cent in July, 1967.

We oppose the bill on two general grounds. One is that federalization of unemployment insurance is another infringement on the right of a state to administer its own unemployment insurance program.

Another is that this bill would nullify some of the important changes made in our California unemployment insurance law in the recent 1965 Legislature.

For 30 years, the states have controlled their own unemployment insurance programs. The California Legislature this year passed AB 518. It increased unemployment insurance benefits from $55 to $65 a week. It also tightened the rules on who would qualify for compensation. In the past, the only penalty for voluntarily leaving your job without good cause, or being fired for misconduct, was to be disqualified for five weeks.

The new rule is that the disqualification of this type would continue until the person has earned five times his weekly benefit amount. This was aimed to discourage professional chiselers.

Under the previous California law, the minimum earnings within a year to qualify for any benefits was $600. The new state law raises minimum earnings to $720.

These improvements worked out by the state Legislature would all be swept aside by the federal legislation.

The proponents of the federal bill contend that state laws have failed to keep up with progress, and that no major improvements have been made in the last 30 years. The improvements made in California completely refute this sweeping allegation.

From a maximum of $15 compensation per week in 1938, the amount has risen to $65 per week in 1965.

The new federal law could well double the employers' unemployment insurance taxes in six years. It would also force most of the state's farmers to pay both state and federal taxes, at the rate of 4.25 per cent of their payrolls, to support the unemployment compensation system.

In effect, the federal government is telling the states:

"You don't know how to run your unemployment insurance program. Here, let's you pay for it; we'll run the show."

Every California employer, interested in continued economic prosperity of the state, should write his Congressman and U.S. Senators to express opposition to H.R. 8282.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

ACTION NEEDED

More than talk is needed to get noble ideas off the planning board and into performance. As James Russell Lowell wrote in 1870:

"All the beautiful sentiments in the world weigh less than a single lovely action."

There is always a strong temptation to substitute vague theories for solid action. In fact, it is easy to deceive ourselves into concluding that we solve problems by merely thinking or talking about them.

The Apostle James offers wise advice to those who merely listen to the divine truth and fail to put it into practice:

"Be doers of the word and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves." (1:22)

"What will it profit, my brethren, if a man says he has faith, but does not have works?" (2:14)

"For just as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith also without works is dead." (2:26)

Check on yourself from time to time to determine how effectively you relate your sound convictions to life. Remember God expects more of you than lofty thoughts, theories, resolutions or good intentions.

May I be a doer, not just a dreamer, O Lord.

Sacramento Supervisors Flayed For Quizzing Federal Program

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Every good newspaper reporter knows the value of asking questions to get at the facts, and the process seems to have seeped through to the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors, with some startling lack of answers in relation to President Johnson's "anti-poverty" program.

Application was made to the federal government for $400,000 for the federal administration plan to eliminate the poor by giving them the hard-earned dollars of the people who produce. The $400,000, plus the other billions in the program, doesn't just happen. It comes out of your income tax dollar, or other taxes.

Three of Sacramento County's five supervisors refused to buy the application until they have some specifics concerning what is to be done with the money.

THEY WERE castigated thoroughly from almost every angle, and particularly by a Negro leader. They were termed "short-sighted," and a few other uncomplimentary remarks were made.

At no time did any part of the community come forward, and give the supervisors a well-deserved pat on the back for exercising their responsibilities with relation to the administration of local government.

Instead, threats were made that the application for the $400,000 would go ahead anyway, without supervisorial approval. With the anxiety of the federal government to launch its plans, it might just get approved.

This is reasonably clear evidence that the last vestiges of local government control are relics of the past.

The Sacramento supervisors who want answers to their questions are members of the community. They make a living in private business, know the value of a dollar, and know the effort the individual in private business must put out to satisfy even the paper demands of government, let alone the dollar demands.

AND THEY RECEIVED partial answers even from the state government when a representative of the department of employment told them:

"Little or none of the $400,000 actually will be spent on training welfare recipients.

"Instead, they will be trained on the job in government agencies.

"The money will go towards special medical expenses, transportation, child care, and other expenses of welfare recipients and for staff."

Atrocity Stories Heard During War

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In a recent letter to the editor, H. M. Worley describes a dreadful atrocity against school children and their teacher in Laos.

Mr. (?) Worley's sincerity is evident and is not here questioned.

However, is not a word of caution appropriate?

The writer says he "heard" an "eye witness account" of the incident. The question arises, did he hear it first-hand from the eye witness, or from someone who had heard it from someone who heard it, etc. Also, what was the veracity of the "eye witness?"

The story itself rests on assumptions impossible to verify at this time: that "religion" is taught in the Laotian schools; that it was being taught by this particular teacher to these particular children; that the attack was made in order to stop this teaching.

In every war situation stories of atrocities by the adversary go the rounds. Some, like those of Nazi, Germany, are, alas, well authenticated. Others prove to be without foundation.

The story cited appears far too dubious to justify an attack on "People for Peace," who believe so sincerely that the situation in Viet Nam can be solved by peaceful means that they are willing to risk their lives to bring this about.

Greenbrae Leader Contradicts Story

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Aug. 18, 1965, your paper published an article "Greenbrae Group Names Directors To Two Vacanices." As one of the directors who resigned from the board, I was surprised to read that my resignation was rendered because of "pressure of personal committments."

I submitted my resignation Aug. 4, 1965, in a letter to A. L. Horstmeyer Jr., president of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn.

During my presidency of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. last year, I had inaugurated an extensive public relation program and founded our first own quarterly newspaper, the "Greenbray."

This year as membership chairman, I depended almost exclusively on the effectiveness and regularity of the paper to promote membership in our community.

Jack Carew, the director in charge of public relation and editor of the "Greenbray," seemed to have failed sorely in his assignment and performance.

For that reason I felt that the office of membership chairman is useless without the support and cooperation of the director of public relation.

This was my reason for resigning and this is the only reason.

Los Angeles Rioting Hurt Negro Stature

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There is only one way the American Negro can gain the equality that he allegedly lacks. He must gain the respect of his fellow American. To try to force respect on anyone creates not respect, but disrespect and hate; this is the result of most of their demonstrations and of the laws rammed through Congress (many of the politicians who support these laws couldn't care less about the Negro, except that their votes come in handy at election time).

The only way for the Negro to win respect is for them to improve their conditions themselves by hard work. This is how most of the other minorities in America have done it . . . the Chinese, a former slave people on the railroads. . . . Unlike the Negro communities, Chinatown is full of Chinese-owned businesses with Chinese employees; it would be a big step forward for the Negro to follow this example.

The recent events in Los Angeles certainly did not win the Negroes any respect. Most of the white businessmen and families will not re-establish themselves in the area. Perhaps the Negroes will buy these businesses and start their own. And they would be helping the economy, instead of being a drain on it via the dole.

Training Held Vital To Minority Needs

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Handed money for nothing develops the something-for-nothing attitude.

This is part of the reason for the Watts situation and holds true in all colors and creeds.

Training for jobs and requiring work is part of the solution.

Police attitudes also stimulate Watts situations, particularly Chief Parker's opinion of minority groups.

The California State Welfare Department has its place but has become too much of a political factor.

It is a must that charity be subsidized by job training. Every citizen must assume his or her responsibility to make our country work.

You can give an untrained, don't-care person a flourishing business, and it will not be long before that person is back on welfare.

SOME YEARS AGO, a mother was carrying her baby over the hills of South Wales. But she became lost in a blizzard, and never reached her destination. A search party found her frozen to death — with no coat or dress on. She had taken them off to wrap them around her baby — who was still warm and cooing contentedly when they picked him up from his dead mother's arms.

The baby for whom his mother sacrificed her life grew up to be David Lloyd George, prime minister of Great Britain during World War I.

FATHER KELLY, a golfer of sorts, was 160 yards from the seventh green, and was advised by his caddy to use a number three iron. "I believe I can make it with a four," insisted the good father—but his ball landed woefully short in a deep sand pit. "Confound it," grumbled Father Kelly, "I guess the good Lord didn't hear me."

"He probably heard you all right," conceded the caddy, "but in my church when we pray we keep our heads down."

REFORMERS in politics were not exactly late Mayor Jimmy Walker's cup of tea. The colorful if not always admirable New Yorker once contemptuously defined a reformer as "a man who rides through a sewer in a glass-bottomed boat."

Ike Disclaims Split With LBJ Over Viet Nam Support Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's the spirit of the thing, not the words, so what might have looked like a split between President Johnson and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower turned out to be anything but.

If this looks tangled as it goes along, that's the way the story is.

In other years, when there were more congressional Republicans, they gave Democratic presidents a hard time. But they're so outnumbered by Democrats now they get critical of Johnson only once in a while.

AND EVEN THEN it's no chorus. It might be different if they had a big enough rallying point, which Eisenhower would have been if he'd had a rift with Johnson.

But just as Washington was wondering if he had, Eisenhower chose a meeting of Republicans to denounce the idea of a difference between him and Johnson on Viet Nam. "Rot," he called it.

In his eight White House years, Eisenhower said and wrote many things about Viet Nam: At news conferences, in speeches, in messages to Congress, and in letters to South Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem who was ousted and killed in 1963.

In a now famous letter to Diem on Oct. 25, 1954, Eisenhower promised American aid, saying:

"THE PURPOSE of this offer is to assist the government of Viet Nam in developing and maintaining a strong, viable state, capable of resisting attempted subversion or aggression through military means."

Johnson quoted from that letter this year in explaining his actions in ordering a big buildup of American forces in Viet Nam and their direct involvement in the war. He wanted to show that helping Viet Nam was not a new policy.

He said: "Three presidents—President Eisenhower, President Kennedy, and your present President—over 11 years have committed themselves and promised to help defend this small and valiant nation."

He might have added that President Harry S. Truman, before any of them, had sent in about $2 billion in economic and military aid to help the French fight the Communists in Viet Nam.

But last week Eisenhower was asked about Johnson's use of his 1954 letter to Diem and said:

"We were not talking about military programs, but foreign aid."

It was this statement which some people perhaps took for a split. But Eisenhower didn't let the impression last long. He said Thursday he was behind Johnson, adding: "We must follow the President."

Yet, the picture might still look muddy without some additions.

THIS WRITER went through the eight volumes of Eisenhower's published statements over eight years and could find not one instance in which he promised to send American troops to Viet Nam to take direct part in the war.

But in 1954, the year of his letter, he sent 685 military technicians into Viet Nam to help train its army and kept about that number there all through his presidency.

And he continued to give economic and military aid.

American aid now has gone over $5 billion. But there was a good reason why American combat troops were not needed in Viet Nam during most of Eisenhower's presidency.

From 1954 until 1959 the Red guerrillas lay low. In that latter year they perked up on a small scale. Guerrilla activity slowly increased in intensity. Then in 1961 Diem wrote Kennedy, saying Viet Nam couldn't win without more assistance. Kennedy sent in 2,000 men. That number has been increasing since.

While Eisenhower didn't send in combat troops, he had his eye on Viet Nam and, explaining the aid he was giving, said the fall of Viet Nam would "have the gravest consequences for us."

He said he didn't want to get the United States directly involved but some months before Eisenhower wrote his 1954 letter to Diem, Vice President Richard M. Nixon was thinking of much stronger action.

HE SAID the United States could not afford a further retreat in Asia and Eisenhower's administration would have to face up to sending U.S. troops there.

End Not In Sight For Military Funds

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Military appropriations so far voted by Congress for the current fiscal year amount to $51,746,768,000 —and the end is not in sight.

This stupendous total smashes to smithereens the highly touted $47.79 billion for defense expenditures in the federal budget President Johnson submitted to Congress in January.

HE CLAIMED much kudos for resolutely pruning the spending requests of the armed services to well under $50 billion.

The $4 billion increase in military appropriations also torpedoes his equally vaunted $99.7 billion over-all ceiling for the federal budget. This also was hailed as a notable economy achievement.

To congressional leaders the president boasted he had gone to exceptional lengths to avoid being the first chief executive "to break the $100 billion budget barrier."

WITH A NUMBER of large appropriations bills still pending, the over-all total already exceeds $105 billion — and is certain to go higher.

There has been no comment from the White House on this significant development. For some time there has been no fanfare and hooplah about "economy." It has vanished as a subject of presidential "pointing with pride."

Sen. Milton Young, N. D., second-ranking Republican on the powerful appropriations committee, has figured out that "Great Society" spending is many times greater than even the huge amounts being voted at the behest of the president.

ACCORDING TO Young, the real total is an immense $61.903 billion instead of $11.555 billion.

The vast difference is due to the fact that all the heavy-spending "Great Society" programs extend over a period of years — with additional huge appropriations needed to keep them going in each of those years.

"Federal expenditures are being increased for a great variety of purposes," points out Young, "many of which will increase in cost year by year.

"If expenditures continue to soar," warns Young, "we can expect only one of two results: The restoration of many old taxes and perhaps even some new ones, or a badly unbalanced budget with inevitable run-away inflation."

REP. ADAM Clayton Powell, D.-N. Y., noted for his extensive government-financed junketeering and listing his wife on his congressional payroll at $18,000 a year, has sent word to the White House that he is against the elevation of Robert Weaver, head of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, to secretary of the new Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Declared Powell, "I haven't seen him for more than a year, although I am head of the committee that handles his legislation." Like Powell, Weaver is a Negro.

Although Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N. Y., publicity-conscious 77-year-old chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, is insisting on floor managing the immigration bill, he has asked Rep. Michael Feighan, D-Ohio, its real author, to make the initial presentation when it is considered by the full House.

Highway 101 Islands In Novato Need Replanting, Cleaning Up

With the islands in Highway 101 in Novato now landscaped, there comes a greater need to care for them. Already there has been one case reported where some people have ridden their horses along the newly planted iceplants, causing considerable damage.

Then, with the new plants in the bare ground, the debris that formerly went almost unnoticed in the maze of weeds, now stands out like lightning in a storm.

WE WOULD LIKE to see the service stations and drive-ins along the west side of the highway watch their debris more closely. Wherever there is a service station, one can tell the color of paper towels they use by looking in the islands. The prevailing west winds carry them right out into the islands.

This is even more true of the drive-ins where everything from paper cups to paper containers and napkins are left to blow around the area.

We would like to see a voluntary movement to curtail this blowing debris, and if that fails, the police should take action because there is an anti-litter law.

SPEAKING OF POLICE, never before have we seen Novatans more united than they were last week in defense of their police department. After the council ordered a study of the cost of duplicating the Novato Police Department's services with deputy sheriffs, the citizens were shocked.

Not a single person that we talked to after that council action favored the move. The general reaction was one of thinking that it was actually spoofing, to complete utter amazement at the council because of the proposal.

NO ONE that we talked to had ever dreamed that the council would seriously consider going back to deputy sheriffs for police protection.

THE SAUSALITO fire department has come up with an idea that we think should be adopted everywhere in the county. It has come up with the plan of placing a metal disc on houses where there is an invalid.

With this warning, if there is a fire or some other emergency, the firemen can immediately go into the house to try to rescue the invalid.

We talked with Fire Chief George Cavallero about the idea. He said that several years ago, a private concern wanted to get the sanction of the Novato Fire Department to sell such stickers to individuals to be placed in the window. However, this was not done.

"It would be a good thing if it was done on a uniform county wide basis," Cavallero said. He added that such an idea has not come before the fire chief's meeting, but it might in the future now that Sausalito has come up with it.

THE OTHER NIGHT we took a drive out by Stafford Lake just at dusk. The sunset was beautiful over the hills to the west and, as our eyes became accustomed to the twilight, we could distinguish a tall wading bird in the reeds at the shallow part of the lake just south of the dam toward the Indian Valley Golf Course.

Then we could see two large geese in the reeds and one duck. When they got into the water where we could see them better we saw that it was a mated pair of geese and a half grown offspring following them.

WILLIAM MELSON, superintendent of the water treatment plant, said that the golf club had put the geese there just for esthetic purposes. He said that an earlier attempt several years ago, by the fish and game department, to plant some Canadian honkers there failed because the geese wandered out onto Novato Boulevard and were killed.

We thought of what a good project it would be for some youth club to try to establish a waterfowl flock at the lake. It could became a Mecca for both the birds and people as Lake Merritt is in Oakland.

Live-In-Hub On Council's Night List

Ordinances banning door-to-door salesmen from San Anselmo and eliminating the requirement for the city administrator to live in the city will be considered by the San Anselmo city council at 8 p.m. today.

Both matters were postponed from earlier meetings because not all council members were present.

The council is scheduled to set a tax rate of $2.24 per $100 assessed valuation to meet the 1965-66 budget of $780,426.

Hearing on an appeal by Harold Sharrow from planning commission denial of rezoning property at the rear of 528 Red Hill Avenue for commercial use will be held. The hearing was postponed by the council July 27 because only three councilmen were present.

The council is scheduled to authorize calls for bids on a fire engine and for improvements on San Anselmo Avenue between Ross Avenue and the city limits.

On his birthday in 1785, George Washington transplanted several lilac bushes and young dogwood, sassafras and redbud trees.

State Office Seeks Lists Marin Group

Los Angeles attorney Robert H. Finch, candidate for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, today announced a 12-man organizing committee in Marin County.

The committee, which will spearhead the Finch campaign in Marin, are as follows:

David B. Allison of Mill Valley, John H. Davis of Belvedere, Harry Diner of Corte Madera, William A. Exline of San Rafael, Richard E. Herndon of Kentfield, Mrs. Paul J. McCart of San Rafael.

James McNab of Ross, Mrs. Geraldine Ollinger of Kentfield, Melville Owen of Kentfield, Edwin W. Thomas of San Rafael, and Edmond C. Ward of Greenbrae.

Navy Man Fined In Driving Charge

Michael J. Hunterman, 20, a Navy enlisted man at Point Mugu, Ventura County, was fined $276 and placed on a year's probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

He was arrested by Belvedere police last Wednesday following a traffic accident at San Rafael Avenue and Beach Road.

Parked Auto Hit By Truck

A Novato man smashed his pick-up truck into a parked car Sunday at Fourth Street and Ross Valley Drive, San Rafael.

Fred C. Mauroni Jr., 25, of 642 Plum Street, Novato, reached to help his year-old boy, Rene, who had fallen to the floor from the seat of the truck, and lost control of his vehicle.

The parked car belonged to Janice M. Marquis of 30 Van Hooten Court, Sleepy Hollow.

Mauroni was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts on the nose.

Everyone In Los Angeles Knew That It Couldn't Happen There

If Los Angeles newscasters have been unctuously self-righteous in describing racial outbreaks and accompanying police brutality in other parts of the nation, it was because they knew it couldn't happen here.

We have been proud of our race relations: neither the ballot nor the front of the bus is denied a man because of his color. Black and white attend the same colleges, study in the same classes and play together on the same varsity.

Some of the richest Negroes in America—and that means the world—have made their wealth here in business, the arts and the professions. Our popular postmaster is colored, as are a number of our judges. Members of the race hold important elective, as well as appointive posts and occupy many of our civil service jobs.

In sports and the entertainment world, their talents are highly respected—and paid for. Names like Maury Wills, Junior Gilliam, Eddie Anderson (Jack Benny's Rochester), Lena Horne, Sammy Davis Jr. and the late Nat King Cole tell the story.

NO, IT COULDN'T happen here—but it has. What sparked it was a routine arrest of a suspected drunken driver (he has since pleaded guilty, incidentally)—something that happens every day, alas, to whites in white communities.

But this was a colored man, and it was in a colored community—so it became "police brutality" and triggered an anarchistic holocaust of shooting and looting ominously reminiscent of the Mau Mau eruption in British East Africa a decade ago. Over an area that covered 50 square miles, the cry was "Kill Charlie" (the white man), and neither the life nor the property of any white was safe.

I WRITE THIS on the fifth day, when comparative order has been restored by the presence of some 16,000 police and national guardsmen, and the sniping is only desultory. What remains of the estimated 2,000 fires is being attended to by firemen, now wearing bullet-proof vests in protection against the snipers who had kept them away before, just as they had shot up ambulances attempting to rescue the wounded.

The last radio broadcast says that over 2,800 of the mob have been arrested and, interestingly, only 10 per cent of them are teen-agers. One youngster explained that he had not participated in any arson, but felt he had a right to cart away some suits "because I'm a poor boy."

Some of the professional Negro leaders — and their bleeding-heart white allies — who attempted earlier to stop the savagery and were repulsed by their "followers"—have formed committees and are asking that city officials sit down with the underprivileged hoodlums and iron out their differences. They demand the head of Police Chief William Parker, who has refused.

"BUT THAT will not solve the problem," complained one spokesman on TV. "We must look for the underlying cause and eliminate it."

I suggest they are not looking for a cause, but a scapegoat. For the cause lies in the climate they have been nurturing the past few years. It is they who have sowed the wind and now reap the whirlwind they cannot control.

Under the leadership of a self-proclaimed peace lover, they have preached non-violence but winked at violence. They have preached love but winked at hate. They have talked about rights but never responsibilities.

They have taught their people that law and order are a pedestrian way to achieve results and that civil disobedience is a virtue if it gets things done faster; that the end justifies the means.

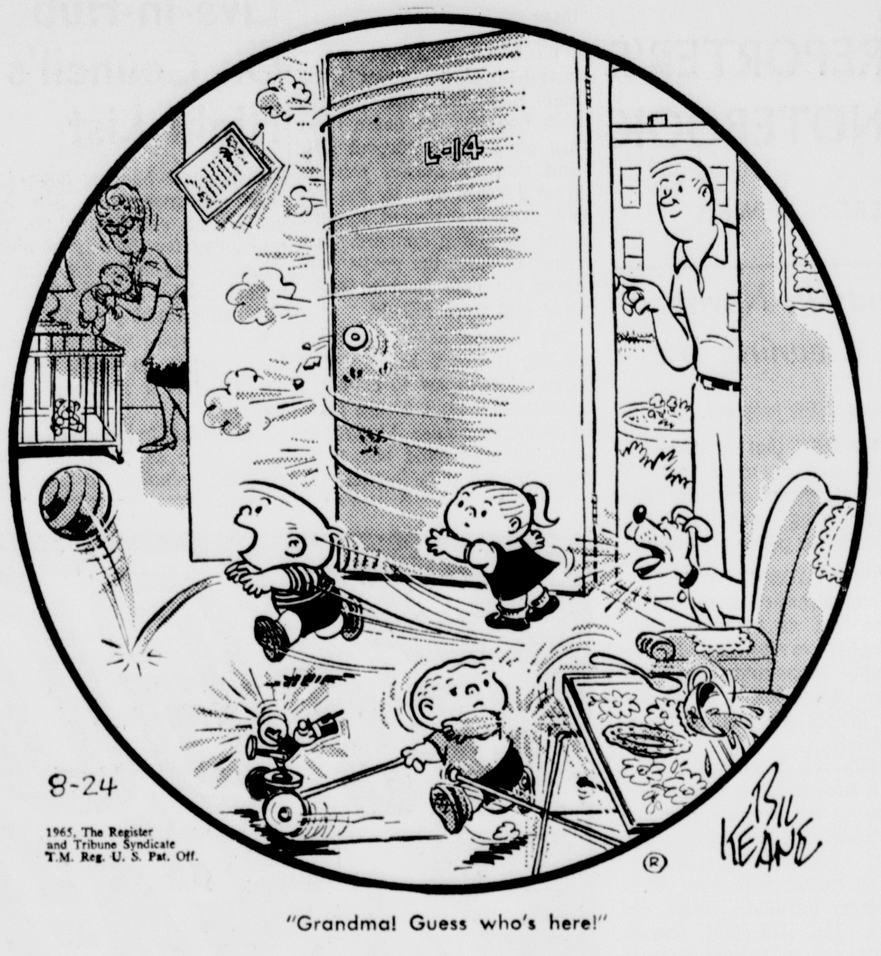

THEY HAVE interpreted the right "to peaceably assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances" to include the "right" to sit in and lie down and interfere with the orderly process of the very government they appeal to.

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 24, the 236th day of 1965 with 129 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

Richard Cardinal Cushing was born on this day in 1895.

On this day in history:

In 79 A.D., thousands of people were killed and the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum were buried following the eruption of Mount Vesuvius in Italy.

In 1814, the British captured Washington and burned the Capitol and the White House.

In 1932, Amelia Earhart Putnam became the first woman to make a transcontinental nonstop flight.

In 1939, President Franklin D. Roosevelt appealed to Germany to avoid war and Germany and Russia signed a 10-year non-aggression pact.

A thought for the day—Playwright James Barrie said: "Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Partner's Low Card May Not Be Signal

In many defensive situations you play a higher card than necessary to encourage your partner to lead that suit.

You play low to show no interest in the suit. Make allowance, however, for the times that your partner is dealt such awkward cards that he cannot afford to signal.

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and looked suspiciously at South's queen.

SINGLETON DEUCE

It was possible that West had led the singleton deuce of diamonds and that South was dropping the queen to deceive East.

Hoping to clear the situation up, East led the ace of spades. As it happened, West didn't think he could afford to signal with the king or queen of spades; this would cost a trick unless East had the jack of spades.

When West dropped the deuce of spades (with some inward misgiving), East regarded this as a discouraging signal and switched back to diamonds.

POOR IDEA

South gratefully took the trick, drew trumps and ran the clubs to get rid of his spades.

It was a poor idea to suspect South of having length in diamonds. Even if South had started with four diamonds he might have dropped the jack or the king rather than the queen.

It was far more likely that South's play at the first trick was "honest" and that the defenders needed spade tricks.

LOW SPADE

East should lead a low spade at the second trick in case West started with K-x of spades. East could then win the second spade and give his partner a spade ruff.

When East did lead the ace of spades he should have continued the suit no matter what his partner played.

The situation would be the same if West started with K-10-2; West would play the deuce rather than try to signal encouragement.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K Q 2
♡ 7 6 3
◇ J 4 2
♣ 9 8 6 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump.

You can afford a response with six points in high cards, but should not raise partner's suit with just three small cards in his suit and not the slightest ruffing value. If partner opened with one spade you would raise to two spades.

England Also Hit By Drought Perils

WATER HTK— 1ST RUN
By JOSEPH GLADSTONE
Worldwide Press Service

LONDON — Recent reports in British newspapers about the grave water shortage in parts of the United States has produced murmurs of sympathy from many Britons also suffering from a water shortage.

The cold, wet summer in many areas of this country has made the shortage less serious than it might have been. Nevertheless, unofficial rationing and quota schemes have been operating in some districts. And there has been a widespread campaign to conserve water by restricting its use.

One serious effect has been the disruption of house building plans in this house-hungry little island. In certain districts near London, for instance, house building is banned — because water supplies would not be available for new houses if they were erected.

But this short-term shortage, which will ease off as winter approaches, is the least of Britain's water supply problems. This country also has a long-term water shortage which becomes increasingly dangerous every year.

The trouble is that the British, like all other advanced industrial nations, are using more and more water every year. Consumption has doubled since prewar, and is now running at a rate of about 4.5 billion gallons per day.

Demand is growing by about three per cent each year, British water experts estimate. Within about 10 years, allowing for special increases for agriculture and electrical generating power, water consumption in Britain could reach 10 billion gallons a day.

It should be easy to find that much water in Britain, a country with relatively high rainfall. In some places it exceeds 100 inches a year, and the average for the whole country is 36 inches a year.

That's a lot of water. One inch of rain falling on one square mile amounts to 14,480,000 gallons.

But, possibly because the high rainfall has made efficient conservation unnecessary in the past—the British water storage system is inadequate for the country's current needs. The fact that there have been three dry years in succession, with an average rainfall 11 inches below normal, has underlined the problem.

But the crisis was looming anyway. It has merely appeared a few years sooner than it might have.

Two kinds of water supply are available in Britain, because of the geological structure of the country. The Western part is composed mostly of hard, impervious rocks, so water can be collected from reservoirs, lakes and streams there. The eastern part, on the other hand, is composed mostly of soft, porous rocks, so water soaks underground, and is "tapped" from underground springs.

One possible method of overcoming the water shortage is to link the waterways of east and west Britain. In this way the time lag in the effect of dry periods could be utilized.

In the west, dry spells have an immediate effect, because surface water dries up. But in the east, the natural underground supplies may last through the dry spell and disappear when it is over—because they were not being replaced during the drought.

Transfers from east to west, and vice-versa, could solve local water shortages. In any case, the western parts of Britain have much more rainfall than the east. So a steady west to east flow is possible if and when British water engineers solve the many problems of a national water transporting system.

This immediately raises another problem: where and how to store water in Britain? There is an acute land shortage already, and every plan for a new surface reservoir starts a fresh outburst of angry protests from all the farmers around and from societies dedicated to the preservation of the British countryside.

The answer to this problem appears to be more underground storage. Water could be pumped artificially into underground chambers. This is being done already in Europe. The Dutch, for example, pump water from the River Rhine at times of flood, store it, then pump it out again for use in dry spells.

In Britain, engineers calculate that using natural underground reservoirs in this way would cost only a fifth as much as building artificial reservoirs above ground.

There are also demands that the British government should build dams across the entrances to some of the really massive bays around the coast, and use the resulting enclosed areas as reservoirs.

One possible bay exists in northwest England, Morecambe Bay, and government engineers are currently studying the possibility of turning it into a reservoir.

The great bay on the east coast, known as The Wash—where King John is supposed to have lost the crown of England when the tide came in and trapped his baggage horses—may also be suitable for damming and use as a reservoir.

A final way of increasing Britain's water supplies is the distillation of sea water. British water engineers feel they are among the world leaders in this technology, and they claim that atomic power may soon make it commercially worth while. Using atomic power station heat, they estimate that in a few years will be able to distill sea water at a cost of less than a dollar for a thousand gallons.

It now costs a little less than half a dollar to produce a thousand gallons of reservoir or spring water. So if the British hunger for water for industry, agriculture and home goes on increasing, a dollar for a thousand gallons may soon be an economically attractive proposition.

Catholic Priest Dies In Crash

YUBA CITY (AP) — A young Catholic priest, heading home from a dinner with another priest in Yuba City, was killed early today when his sports car crashed on Highway 99 south of the city.

The Rev. John Vincent Coleman, 25, of Sacramento, was trapped in the small foreign car, the California Highway Patrol said.

Father Coleman was pronounced dead at the Sutter County Hospital.

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday continued until Sept. 13 the application of Tidewater Oil Co. for a permit to allow expansion and remodeling of a service station at College Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield.

Cordill said the delay was to learn plans of the county public works department for Drake Boulevard.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New Techniques Increase Need For Definition Of Body Death

VAN DELLEN

We need a new definition of death. Several months ago a group of physicians pronounced a man dead because his heart had ceased beating. He suffered from a fatal illness and had arranged to donate his kidney to a person in need of a transplant. The procedure was to be done as soon as possible after death.

The family took legal steps, claiming the brain may have been alive even though the heart was not beating and there were no visible signs of life. They contended the physicians should have made a brain wave tracing (electroencephalogram) prior to removal of the kidney.

THE HEALTHY brain may generate waves for several minutes after the heart stops beating even though the individual is unconscious and there are no reflexes. But brain tissue deteriorates in a matter of minutes without nourishment. Trying to resuscitate a person with a fatal illness only prolongs death.

The situation is different when an active individual collapses because of a heart attack. The physician begins external cardiac massage along with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation when there are no signs of heart activity. An artificial pacemaker or a defibrillator may be needed, depending upon the abnormality. At any rate, life may be restored and there are no mental changes provided the brain receives nourishment within three to five minutes. In this instance the technique is indicated because it prolongs life. The question is: Were these people dead or alive?

WE KNOW that certain body body cells remain alive for 30 hours after death. Research in this field has produced unbelievable additions to our knowledge. It is doubtful that this will alter our definition of death. On the other hand, the recent suggestion that our departed be kept in a deep freeze and thawed out when a treatment for their fatal illness becomes available will add to the confusion if it becomes a reality. The survival of the brain will be the deciding factor.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

NERVE SOOTHING SUN

M. G. writes: What effect, if any, does the sun have on the nervous system and heart? A neighbor of mine cannot take the high humidity yet she lies in the sun for hours trying to get a tan. P. S. Hhe has difficulty in breathing.

REPLY

The sun soothes the nerves but has no effect upon the heart unless the individual is overheated. Some people with disorders of the lungs and heart complain of difficulty in breathing when the humidity is high. The increase in moisture may interfere with oxygen consumption.

HEARING DEVICE

B. J. writes: Is a hearing aid worn in the better or the worse ear?

REPLY

Whichever ear gives the most satisfactory results. As a rule, this is the better side. Individuals who are moderately hard of hearing in both ears generally wear the device on the side with the greater hearing loss. This is not a problem when the hearing aid is incorporated in the temple bows of spectacles (hearing glasses). Hearing with both ears through the use of two aids leads to stereophonic listening.

SKIN CANCER

H. T. writes: What does skin cancer look like?

REPLY

Skin cancer varies in appearance from grayish, scaly sores to craterlike ulcers. We always are suspicious of a crusted lesion that keeps shedding the top layers but fails to heal.

FOOD POISONING

J. B. writes: What are the symptoms of Salmonella poisoning from eating contaminated eggs?

REPLY

Nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, fever, and prostration. The condition is old fashioned food poisoning caused by one of the Salmonella organisms. They gain entrance through cracks in the eggs and then multiply to such an extent that the eggs are highly contaminated, especially when eaten raw or soft boiled.

FATIGUE AND DIABETES

S. P. writes: Does lack of energy go with diabetes?

REPLY

Yes, but fatigue disappears when diabetes is brought under control with pills or insulin and diet.

FAD REMEDY

O. C. writes: I have been told that generous daily helpings of watermelon will aid arthritis. True or false?

REPLY

False. This fad came and went several years ago.

A COLUMNIST'S MAIL

Bicycling More Popular Than Baseball With U.S.?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Teen-age marriages are from two to four times as likely to wind up in divorce as marriages by those in their 20s.

Worried about radioactive fallout? Some researchers think its effects can be minimized by taking vitamin B, calcium, hormones and antibiotics.

What's our most popular sport? More than 40 million Americans went to thoroughbred racing tracks, more than 26 million to harness tracks, more than 31 million saw major or minor league baseball games, almost as many attended a college or professional football game, but — some 57 million went for a bike ride, and got their own exercise.

Breathing is said to be about the only free thing left. However, it now costs about $600 to $700 for a baby to take its first breath. That's the average price for being born today.

Animal lovers will be pleased to know that rodeos are getting safer. At one time up to 5 per cent of the livestock performers in such shows were hurt. The figure has been cut to a tenth of 1 per cent.

Our quotable notables: "A gossip is one who talks to you about others; a bore is one who talks to you about himself; and a brilliant conversationalist is one who talks to you about yourself"—singer Lisa Kirk.

What's in a name? If Smith moved to Germany, he'd be known as Kuzentzov, in Poland Kowal, in Italy Ferraro, in Bulgaria Kovac, in Hungary Kovars, in France Lefevre. And in England, if he were trying to forget the fact that one of his ancestors was a blacksmith, he might call himself Smythe.

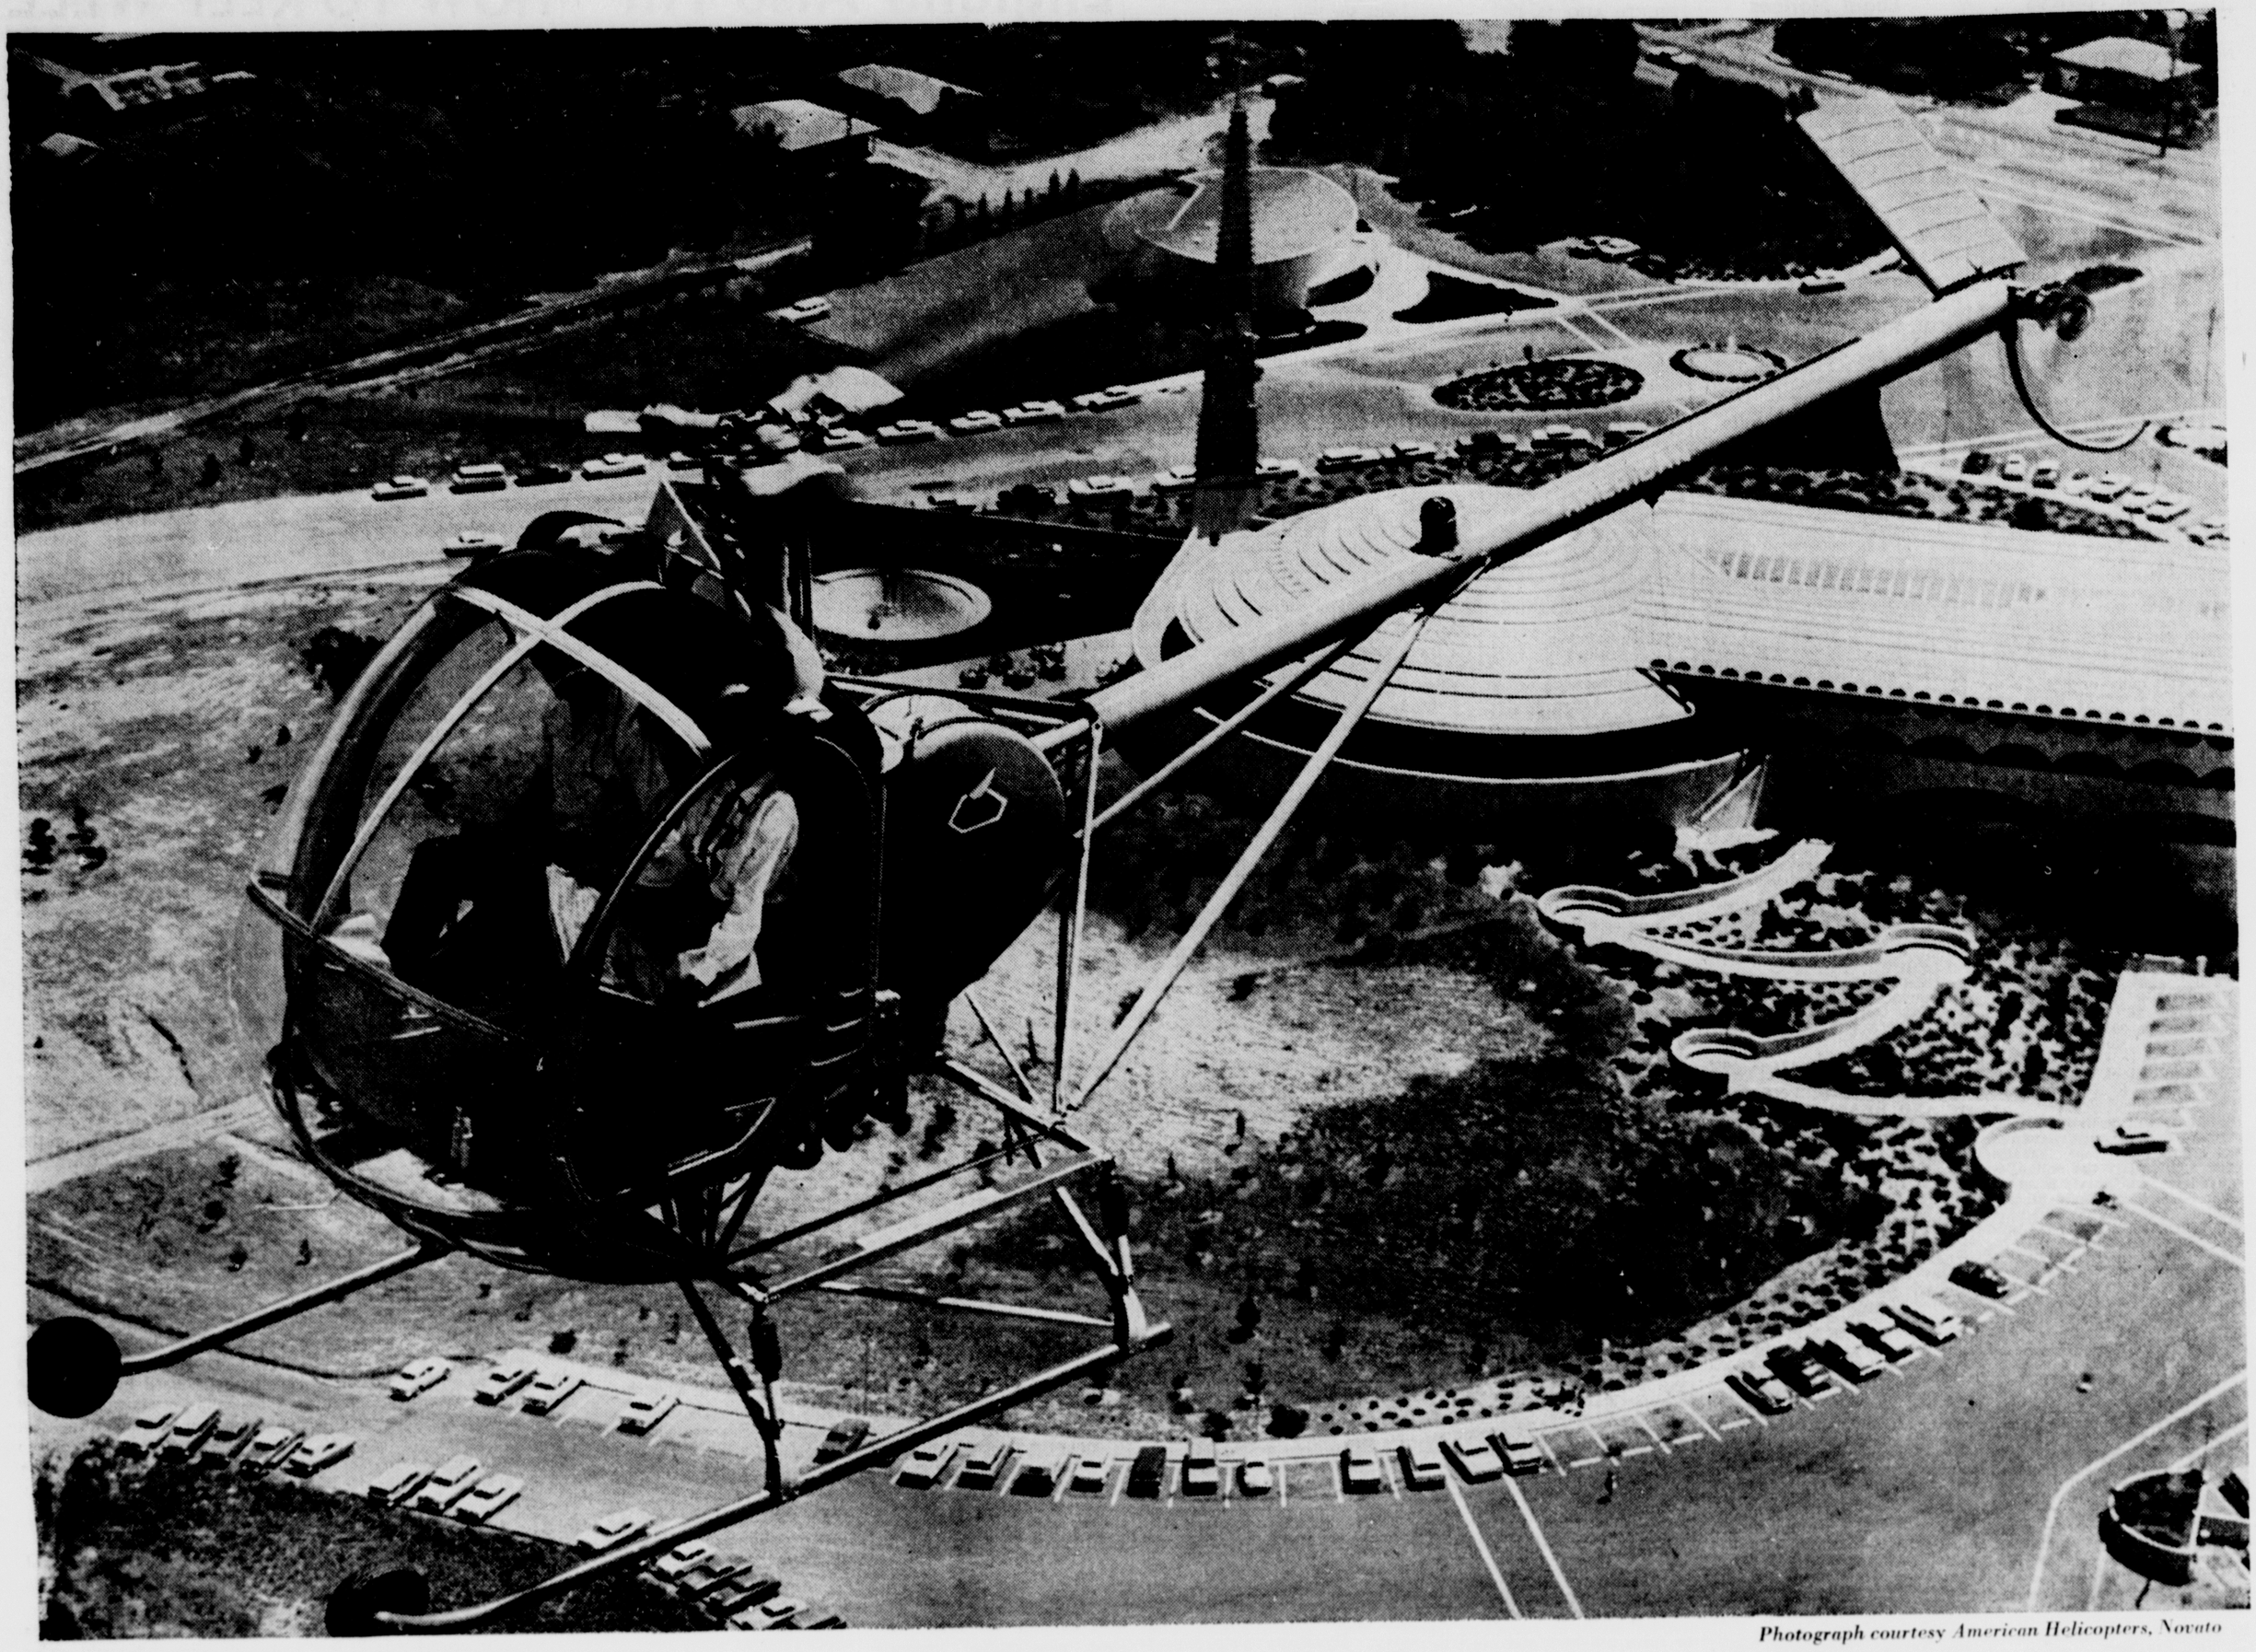

Living takes a lot of nerve nowadays. That may be why the human brain has an estimated 100 billion nerve cells.

History lesson: Can you name the only U.S president who studied to be a physician? He was William Henry Harrison, our ninth chief executive, who died April 4, 1841, after only a month in office. In his youth he completed half of a 32-week medical course at the University of Pennsylvania.

Fluid content: The average American drank only one gallon of wine last year, compared with average Frenchmans' consumption of 35 gallons. But the typical American also put down 32 gallons of milk, 14 gallons of soft drinks, and nearly eight gallons of tea.

Folklore: A branch from a mountain ash will keep witches out of your house. A sore on the tip of your tongue is a punishment for having told a lie. Put on your right sock and shoe first in the morning, or you will have bad luck before nightfall. If you drop a plate of food, you will hear bad news soon.

Worth remembering: "By the time a man can afford to lose a golf ball he just can't hit it that far"—the Farmer's Almanac.

The view grows daily in Marin's best-selling newspaper

Each day, Marin adds a special dimension to its panorama of growth. Each 24 hours it creates that which takes you from yesterday into TODAY—the thousand, exciting faces of LOCAL NEWS.

And local news is growing in every area of Marin County as new people, new homes, new businesses take root.

To report all that happens (the trial, the new bank, the grocery specials, the day Johnny met that unusual, striped pussy-cat) is a challenge. To bring ALL the news of Marin into focus that you may be well-informed is a job requiring growth on the part of the Independent-Journal. For news waits for no one.

This is why the I-J has made unusual advances in news services and equipment within this past year—with bigger ones in the offing. In fact, few newspapers of ANY size, anywhere, have added so much for the reader in so short a time. (The sports page, business page, the stocks, the new columnists, wire services, wire photos . . . these should give you an idea. And we might add the increasing news of advertised goods which is no less an adventure in daily living.)

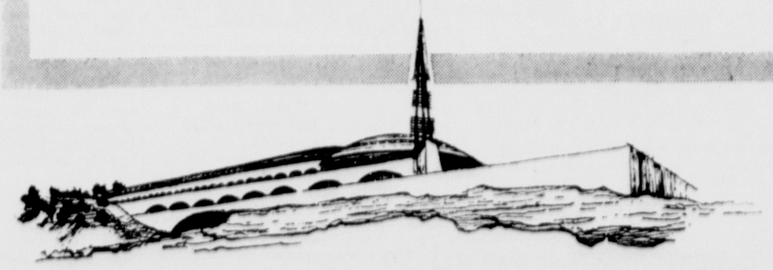

The usual word for this is EXPANSION. But we see it simply as growth to meet your NEED FOR NEWS. It is a commitment to report the TOTAL COMMUNITY . . . the big and the little stories, the humor, the tragedy, the events around you which shape your life, affect your family, and even your future. The larger end, of course, is your RIGHT TO KNOW . . . in a free society . . . the change and the significance of each day's events.

As Marin expands, creating more and more local news, the I-J will print it in full dimension . . . presenting a view that grows daily.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Networks Show They Need The Old Pros

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The juvenile audience and the juvenile - minded are the chief target of television entertainment in the new season, but the networks haven't forgotten that old pros often hold the show together.

ABC - TV's "Hollywood Palace," for instance, has Bing Crosby as host of eight outings, and Fred Astaire of four. Other hosts throughout the season include Joan Crawford, Frank Sinatra, Milton Berle, Kate Smith, Victor Borge, Ray Bolger, Phil Harris, Alice Faye and Judy Garland.

Astaire, in addition, is reported set for a four - part story on NBC - TV's "Dr. Kildare" series, in which he would portray a pool shark whose daughter is a young nun with a dangerous illness.

Jack Benny, whose weekly series came to an end last season, will have several specials on NBC - TV, the first Nov. 3, with Bob Hope and Elke Sommer among the scheduled guests.

And Perry Como's pre-Thanksgiving broadcast on NBC - TV Nov. 22 will feature not only young pro Patty Duke but old pro Gertrude Berg.

Frank McGrath, who played the bearded cook, Charlie Wooster, for years on the now-defunct "Wagon Train" series, will turn up in a regular role on ABC - TV's new weekly show, "Tammy."

And Robert Wilke, who portrayed the dirty rat who came to town to try to kill Gary Cooper in "High Noon," is set for the regular part of a marshal in another new ABC - TV series, "The Legend of Jesse James."

John Ireland is joining CBS-TV's "Rawhide" in the running role of a drover, as the series also adds a Negro and a Briton as costars.

And Lucille Ball, who makes her mind up from year to year about returning to her weekly CBS - TV show, will also be back, but the setting of her program is being switched from fictional Danfield, Conn., to Southern California.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Presidential News Secretary Bill Moyers is interviewed Friday on NBC-TV's "Today" show . . . Same day, same program, commissioner Robert Ball of the Social Security administration explains some provisions of the new medicare plan.

Firecracker Flare Hurled Into Garage

A possible arson attempt by hurling a Japanese firecracker-type flare into the open garage of Roy D. Williams, 97 Berens Drive, Kentfield, was reported yesterday by sheriff's deputies.

Golf Clubhouse Opening Delayed

Reopening of the Mill Valley Municipal Golf Clubhouse, closed in mid-July for repairs, has been delayed for three or four weeks, city building inspector Loren Rhode said today.

The delay, he said, is due to the fact there has not been time for work estimates to come in. The building was to have been reopened Aug. 21.

Rhode said work is being done on drainage, electrical and plumbing fixtures, sheet metal, repairing the men's restroom. Floors and a separation wall between card and main rooms will be left to next year. Cost is just under $5,000, he added.

The Marin Chapter of the University of Santa Clara Alumni Assn. will sponsor a venison dinner Thursday at 6 p.m. at the Marin Yacht Club in San Rafael.

The dinner, which will be preceded by a no-host reception, will be served at 7:30 p.m.

Baking Vital Part Of Tube Manufacture

CHICAGO (UPI) — Strange as it may seem, baking is a vital quality control process in making color television tubes.

At Admiral Corporation's new color tube plant under construction here, three huge baking ovens 200 feet long and 20 feet wide are being installed.

One gas-fired oven will be used for sealing the front panel to the glass bulb of the 25-inch picture tubes, while an electric oven will be used to exhaust the air from the tubes and a second electric oven will bake out the panel.

Navy Job Helps One To Cut Down Smoking

ALAMEDA, Calif. (UPI)—If you want to cut down on your smoking, join the Navy and get assigned to an aircraft carrier.

Every time an airplane is fueled or ammunition is taken from the magazines, no smoking is allowed on the ship. This can be for as much as 10 hours a day, according to officials at the Alameda Naval Air Station.

NATO Is Not Bound To Aid Hawaii Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If Red China should bomb Pearl Harbor tomorrow, U.S. partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance NATO would be under no direct obligation to strike back.

The State Department, the Defense Department and the legal division of NATO all have reached the conclusion that Hawaii, unlike the other 49 states in the Union, is not protected by the treaty's basic provision: an armed attack against one member country shall be considered an armed attack against them all.

Far from being dismayed, U.S. officials have dismissed the matter as insignificant, from either a military or political standpoint. They wish the defense of the mighty U.S. fortress in the mid-Pacific 2,000 miles from California were the most pressing problem besetting the NATO partners.

But they agree it is a curiousity that the bombing of Honolulu would not obligate the NATO partners to the same extent as, say, the strafing of the California coast, which is also on the Pacific. And they acknowledge there has hardly been any consideration, up to now, about Hawaii's coverage under the NATO umbrella.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in recommending approval of the NATO treaty in 1949, emphasized that the mandatory collective defense provisions of the treaty "would not apply to any of the overseas territories outside the north Atlantic area as described in Article 6." Hawaii, by no stretch of the imagination, falls within the Article 6 boundaries.

In any event, the U.S. plans no move to expand the alliance formally to include the 50th state. The result, officials at the State Department feel, would be to turn NATO into an unwieldy worldwide organization, since overseas possessions of other members would have to be included.

The reason for the current discussion, they said was a recent newspaper column raising the question of Hawaii's inclusion. A constituent forwarded the column to Hawaii's senators and representatives, then passed it on to the State Department.

Defense Department officials were notified and after some research, Assistant Secretary of State Douglass MacArthur 2nd brushed off the matter as a "technicality."

"It is difficult, if not impossible, to imagine any attack against the United States, whether directed at Hawaii or another state, which would not be part of a major war," he said. In that event, he added, "the consultation and-or collective defensive provisions of the North Atlantic Treaty would apply."

Hawaii's senators, Republican Hiram L. Fong and Democrat Daniel K. Inouye, normally are sensitive to suggestions their state does not have full rights and prerogatives enjoyed by the others.

But both said they had no intention of seriously pressing for a change in the treaty.

A Crack In Walnut Shell Aids Glass Bottle Strength

NEW YORK (AP) The growing strength of glass bottles and jars stems from a crack in a walnut shell.

A young scientist several years ago observed that walnuts don't always start to crack at the point where the nutcracker is applied. Sometimes the crack started somewhere else. He had seen approximately the same thing happen to glass bottles and jars — cracks starting at a location remote from the point of impact of a sharp blow.

The scientist, working under sponsorship of the Glass Container manufacturers Institute, embarked on a series of studies to find out just why bottles do fail.

These studies have led to the design of bottles and jars that are a third lighter and yet stronger than their predecessors of just a few years ago.

Amateur Organist Builds Them Himself

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Paul Coates, a suburban television serviceman who built a 550-pipe organ in his living room three years ago, now is constructing an organ with six keyboards and more than 2,500 pipes.

Coates had to add another room to his house for the new organ. It will have two keyboards for high pressure pipes and four for low pressure pipes.

Handy Pill Service

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Guests who get back to one French Quarter hotel after a night's wining and dining find an unexpected service on the elevator—the operator has a supply of indigestion tablets on hand to sell for any emergency.

University Athletes Aided By Computer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) —The instructional and testing ability of a computer which serves as instructional aid in a dozen or more academic experiments at Florida State University have been carried to the football practice field and basketball court.

A typewriter-like terminal connected with a computer whose memory has been stored with the plays and formations of an opponent enables Florida state players to study them and for supplementing actual practice work.

Hospital Employees Act As Interpreters

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis University hospitals maintain a pool of about 60 employes, ranging from nurses to janitors, to act as interpreters for patients and vistors who do not speak English.

The volunteer interpreters are fluent in 19 languages.

Big New York Hotel Remains In Family

NEW YORK (UPI) — One large New York hostelry may reasonably be called a family-type hotel. In these days of changing hotel ownership and chain operation, the 1,000-room Hotel Edison has, ever since it was built 34 years ago, been owned and operated by one family—the Kramers.

President of the hotel is Milton J. Kramer, son of the late Max Kramer, who built the inn.

Scopes Still Has Views On Trends In Education In United States

By PRESTON McGRAW

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI) — John Thomas Scopes thinks he was a "Don Quixote, charging at windmills" when he volunteered 40 years ago to be the defendant in the famous Dayton, Tenn., "monkey trial."

Scopes, now 64 and retired, could not have cared less about defending Darwin's theory of evolution, as such. He wanted to defend freedom of thought and academic freedom.

Now he views with concern the increasing role of the federal government in education in the United States and is convinced there is less, not more, now of what he defended.

"It is as bad to have school and state joined together as it is to have church and state joined," Scopes said in an interview.

He also believes "decay in society" has set in and that modern communications may only speed the end of European-type civilization.

Scopes was more optimistic when, at the urging of the school superintendent in Dayton, Tenn., he volunteered to be the defendant in a trial to test Tennessee's new law against teaching evolution.

The American Civil Liberties Union had sought a defendant far and wide. No public school teacher or college professor would volunteer and the ACLU even ran a newspaper advertisement for a defendant.

Scopes was not even a regular teacher. He had substituted in Dayton's high school for a sick biology teacher.

The trial lasted for 11 days. It turned out to be a circus, with more than 100 reporters present. Scopes was almost forgotten in an oratorical duel between Williams Jennings Bryan, 65, who defended the law, and Clarence Darrow, 68, who opposed it.

Scopes' memories of the men are still vivid. He liked Darrow's "balanced personality and the way he could deflate Bryan's flights of oratory with a few sentences.

"Bryan was a politician, but much better than the average politician," Scopes said. "He had the ambition of the average politician. I think he was more sincere than most politicians."

The circus - like atmosphere of the trial—it was moved out of the courthouse into the open so more could see—disturbed Scopes for a while but he soon rationalized it.

"I finally realized that if any good were to come out of it all, the more of a circus it became, the more ridicule heaped on the state of Tennessee, the better," he said. "Fewer other states would be tempted to pass such a law."

On July 24, 1925, three days after the trial ended Scopes was fined $100 and court costs by the judge. The Tennessee Supreme Court on Jan. 14, 1927, reversed the verdict on the ground that a jury should not have assessed any fine over $50.

Bryan died on July 26. He never got away from Dayton alive. Some say Darrow's devastating legal attack on Bryan led to his death.

Through the years, people keep reminding him about the "monkey trial." The worst periods are July, when the trial was held, and late April and May, when students have to write term papers.

Scopes does not answer letters from the students because he does not have time to answer them all and does not want to answer them selectively. Occasionally somebody telephones him and tries to straighten out his "thinking."

Events since the trial have made his role pointless, he believes.

"But given the same circumstances, I think I would do it all over again," Scopes said.

Constable Had His Hands Full

BOSTON (UPI) — Back in 1645, the town constable was a busy man. Dorchester town records of that period show that his duties included:

—Removing oyster shells from public ways.

—Directing the funerals of victims of smallpox.

—Catching Quakers.

Illiteracy Opponents To Meet In Teheran

NEW YORK (UPI) — The first World Congress of Ministers of Education on the Eradication of Illiteracy will meet from Sept. 8-19 in Teheran, Iran, under the auspices of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (Unesco) to consider the best methods and structure for a broad program in adult literacy.

There now are an estimated 750 million illiterate adults in the world, located mainly in the developing countries, a U.N. statement said.

Wasn't Much Help

BOSTON (UPI) — Matthew Craddock, named by the Crown as governor under the first Massachusetts Colonia charter in 1628, never even came to America.

Moscow Waging Battle On Alcoholism In Soviet Union

MOSCOW (UPI) — One of the founders of Communism, Friedrich Engeles, once said that heavy drinking was a disease of capitalism.

Yet today in Russia so many people are hitting the vodka bottle that authorities are waging a tough campaign to combat alcoholism.

The government newspaper Izvestia has been devoting column after column to publicizing the temperance battle.

An official of the all-union Institute for Prevention of Crime, Prof. A. Gertzenson, told a conference on alcoholism that Russians are drinking more than they did in 1940—although he provided no statistics.

And a police official announced that last year six out of very 10 "dangerous" crimes and murders were committed under the influence of alcohol.

The newspaper Komxmolskaya Pravda even warned that prolonged, heavy drinking could make men impotent.

The nation's largest republic —the Russian Federation—has enacted a law that provides up to five years imprisonment for inducing minors to drink and up to six months for making moonshine vodka.

The number of tipsy pedestrians lurching across Moscow streets or of drunken wife beaters is no greater than in the past, in the view of Western observers.

Rather the authorities appear to be attacking a perennial problem that transcends politics and national boundaries. Former Premier Nikita Khrushchev repeatedly spoke out in public on the evils of drinking but sometimes his follow through was lacking.

The new leaders appeared to be taking a no nonsense, attitude. Almost daily in the past month the Soviet press has been filled with proposals on how to combat drunkeness.

Izvestia demanded more temperance propaganda, a campaign to cut down the imbibing by heroes of Soviet films and laws to make treatment for alcoholics mandatory.

A Moscow doctor, M. Sogolov, urged:

"Drunks who become victims of accidents through their own fault should not be treated free of charge. And why not treat those who suffer at the hands of drunks at the drunks' expense? We must force these people to pay for the consequences of their acts."

Izvestsia urged that pictures of alcoholics be posted on a "bulletin board of shame" and their families should get their pay envelopes.

Veteran observers of the Soviet scene say that while Communism has undoubtedly improved the people's lot, life is often still dreary, particularly in rural areas which lack sufficient recreational outlets like clubs and movie theaters.

On the other hand, some suggest that because Russians are eating and living better than they did five years ago, vodka, beer and wine flows just as much—if not more.

Up to a few years ago kiosks and sports stadiums dispensed vodka by the glass but this practice was eliminated. But beer kiosks and parlors still abound.

There is even a store in Moscow that sells beer on credit, complained the newspaper "Moskovski Komsomolets."

"Imagine being drunk on credit," it said.

Teen-Agers Feted For Work In Flood

GREAT BEND, Kan. (UPI) —While officials of numerous American cities pondered the problems of lawless behavior by teen-agers Great Bend city fathers studied the best way to say thank you to teen-agers for work well done.

They decided on an appreciation dinner and dance which was attended by about 500 teen-agers. The event, sponsored by the city council, expressed the community's appreciation to teen-agers credited with an important role in saving the city from the Arkansas river flood in June. The youngsters helped construct sandbag dikes which held floodwaters out of the town after a levee failed.

Vatican Paper Issues Views On Integration

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano says measures taken by the United States for racial integration must be complemented by a "psychological evolution and a social transformation."

The Vatican paper said in an editorial: "Only when these conditions of human and structural progress are achieved will the supreme and sacred principle of moral and juridical equality among Americans be effective and operating."

Germany Races To Aid Deformed

By ZANDER HOLLANDER

FRANKFURT Gerfmany (UPI) — West Germany is racing against time to give her "thalidomide babies" a start in life and she may be losing the race.

At least 2,300 so-called "thalidomide babies," born limbless, deformed or deaf because their mothers took since-banned thalidomide tranquilizers during pregnancy, are growing up fast.

Growing also are the anquished cries of parents, doctors and teachers who think not enough is being done to as sure them a fair chance in life.

"This was the worst drug catastrophe in history. But now inaction is threatening a worse catastrophe — condemning our children to lives as helpless burdens to themselves and Germany," says Karl - Hermann Schulte-Hillen, head of the Association of Parents of Thalidomide Victims.

The children, survivors of the 5,000 to 10,000 thalidomide babies born in West Germany between 1959 and 1962; need costly medical and psychological care, physical therapy, artificial limbs and special schools.

At a congress of the parents in Cologne last month, Schulte-Hillen and other speakers accused the federal and state governments of bureaucratic bickering over who should pay for all this.

State welfare programs theoretically are helping the parents to pay for enormously expensive artificial arms and legs and to have their children learn to use stumpy, tiny fingers at state orthopedic clinics.

But Schulte-Hillen, whose own four-year-old son Jan has a twisted hip and both arms missing, says the states help only the lowest-income parents and make families with even a modest income shoulder the cost burden almost unaided.

If there is a brighter side to the thalidomide tragedy, it may be the way German medical and technical specialists have responded to the challenge.

The "Heidelberg arm" — a carbon dioxide-powered marvel of lightweight steel, plastic and leather developed at the Heidelberg University Orthopedic Clinic — has become the basic tool of hundreds of thalidomide children.

Working closely with the Heidelberg Clinic, the Muenster Orthopedic Clinic of Prof. Oskar Hepp is finding new ways to make the arm more versatile and to adapt it for children whose varieties of deformity are horribly unique.

Hepp, his prosthetics chief, Dr. Goetz Gerd Kuhn, have also devised an electronically steered wheelchair mounted on wheels or rubber tank-type treads capable of going up and down stairs.

Such a wheelchair costs 20,000 marks ($5,000) and a "Heidelberg arm" costs about 4,000 marks ($1,100).

A greater roadblock than the cost is the fact that many parents of deformed children do not know what can be done. There are not enough clinics to equip and train the child with artificial limbs, Hepp said.

Hampering all efforts to minimize the thalidomide tragedy is confusion over its scope. Parents were not legally required to report thalidomide births when the government stopped the sale of the drug in November, 1961. Only thalidomide babies being helped by the German states are listed on records. Schulte-Hillen said he believes hundreds of deformed babies are being hidden by their parents.

"The government must compel these parents to bring their children forward. They must be made to understand their children can lead useful lives if they are helped. Anything less is murder," Schulte-Hillen said.

The otter's favorite pastime is sliding. During the winter months a mother and her young will spend hours every day sliding down steep creek banks.

A Big Dog On Campus

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Tripod is as well known on the Centre College campus as many of the professors.

The dog, origin unknown, was adopted last year after his leg was broken by an auto. Someone brought him to Dean of Men Max Cannes, who had the leg amputated and a pegleg installed.

Tripod follows students to classes, sits quietly through lectures and shows a preference for Shakespeare. He recently attended a six-week session on the Bard of Avon and even showed up for the final exam.

Small Business Loans Double In Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Small Business Administration says the number of firms obtaining loans doubled during the fiscal year which ended June 30.

The SBA says it loaned $418.1 million to 13,420 businesses compared to 6,283 loans totaling $312.2 million the previous year.

Historical Society Has A Roofenanny

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Mason County Historical Society labeled its musical event on Limestone Creek a "roofenanny."

It wasn't because the volume raised the roof, but because the project sought funds to restore the roof to Mefford's fort, a log cabin built of logs floated down the Ohio River as rafts by pioneers. The State of Kentucky wanted to make the cabin a shrine.

Late Vacationers Can Take Notice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The story documented in bulging police files across the country is usually the same.

Careless vacationers do everything but send invitations to burglars to ransack their homes while on their holiday.

Sample:

Mom and Pop make all kinds of plans, pack their bags and kids in the car, check the stove burners, lock the front door, and take off.

When they return suntanned, happy, and tired, the first thing they notice is that the back door is wide open or the basement light is on. Nothing seems quite right.

Inspection reveals the obvious. The house had been broken into. Several thousand dollars worth of clothing and other valuables are gone.

But the vacation doesn't have to end that way. There is no doubt that if a burglar wants to get into a house he can find ways to do it. But police say that steps can be taken to discourage him and improve the chances of a happy ending to that family junket.

All vacation plans should include arrangements to protect your home and its contents.

One of the first steps is to notify the police captain in charge of your precinct that you'll be gone at such and such a time, and for how long. Also give a house key to a trusted neighbor and his name to the police.

Some police departments maintain a list of homes that get regular attention. Still others have cruisers that do nothing but check houses of vacationing occupants.

Jewelry, documents and other valuables left behind should be placed in a safety deposit box or left with the neighbor.

And, don't forget to suspend newspaper and magazine deliveries. A half dozen rolled-up newspapers scattered on the front porch is an open invitation to the burglar. The same goes for mail. Have it held at the post office or delivered to a neighbor.

Then there are more elaborate but relatively inexpensive precautions. Windows should have an out-of-reach safety lock. A simple latch is no deterrent to the thief who merely punches a hole in the glass and releases the latch.

A table lamp in the living room or possibly just the porch light should be hooked to a device that will turn it on at dusk and off at dawn. Such devices are inexpensive and easy to install.

Arrangements also should be made to keep the grass trimmed by a caretaker whose name is supplied to police. It's not uncommon for a pair of thieves to team up, one pretending to mow the lawn while acting as a lookout for his colleague inside.

And, don't make it easier for the second-story man by leaving a ladder on the back porch.

Police said that in any case, homeowners should have a record of the description and serial number of all appliances, plus any photographs of valuable jewelry. This information comes in handy in the event stolen property is recovered and must be identified.

Love To Be Discussed At Sermon

"God is love," one of the most oft-quoted phrases from the Holy Bible, will be among scripture readings at Marin's Christian Science churches tomorrow as Christian Scientists study a lesson-sermon on love.

The above passage, from the first epistle of John, also says "he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

In addition to such biblical quotations, the study will include these words from Mary Baker Eddy's "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures:"

"Simply asking that we may love God will never make us love Him; but the longing to be better and holier, expressed in daily watchfulness and in striving to assimilate more of the divine character, will mold and fashion us anew, until we awake in His likeness."

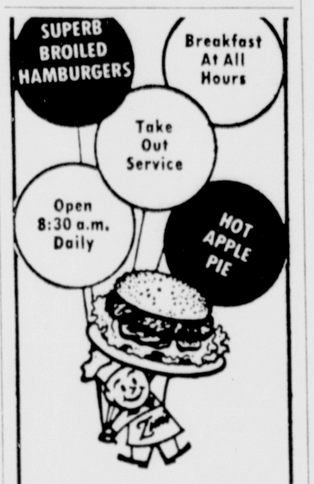

U.S. To Take Part In Romania Art Show

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States will participate in the first international exhibition of drawings by children and youth to be held in Romania. The Childrens Art Gallery of New York has been designated by the State Department's Soviet and Eastern European Exchanges Staff to make U.S. selections.

To date, 20 countries have officially agreed to be represented in the cultural project sponsored by the Romanian Ministry of Education. The assembled works by gifted young people under 17 will be on public display in Bucharrest from Oct. 1 through 20.

Bee Colony Total

BOSTON (UPI) — There are about 5,558,000 colonies of bees in the United States today, according to the New England Crop Reporting Service.

Indians Set Up Own Welfare Committee

HAY LAKE, Alta. (AP) — The Indians of Hay Lake have set up their own welfare committee which is gaining the reputation of being tougher than the federal officials who handle Indian relief money.

The three-man committee screens welfare applicants and decides how much relief each family should get. It works in cooperation with federal Indian affairs branch officials.

"There's no doubt that the committee is tougher than I would be," says Joe Leask, superintendent of the federal Fort Vermillion-Slavey Indian agency, 400 miles northwest of Edmonton.

After the committee's first distribution of relief money, he says, "several people complained to me that they didn't receive relief. The committee thoroughly investigated each case . . . "

The system is "working out fine" despite the Indians' initial reluctance to take on the job, Mr. Leask says. "There is no able-bodied man on this reserve on permanent relief."

The committee isn't the first move the Indians here have made since they marched on the Alberta legislature in February seeking provincial aid. A sawmill has been established and construction of 14 houses is planned.

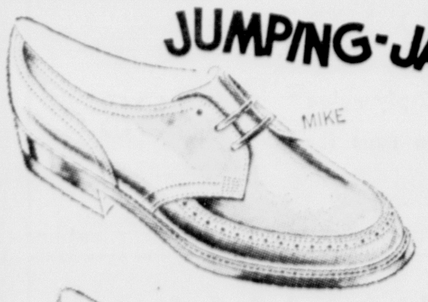

The saw mill, employing 15 Indians, can turn out 20,000 board-feet of lumber a day. Other Indians are working on house construction and building a fire line around the mill.

An amateur's radio message warned residents of Naknek, Alaska, that a 90-foot-high tidal wave was racing across the Pacific toward their coastal town. The timely warning enabled them to escape the water.
